NEBRASKAN STILL MAN OF THE HOUR

W. J. Bryan Leads Democratic Convention Into Declaration of Progressiveness Unparalleled in Political History—Nomination Speeches Made and Balloting Postponed Till Today.

Baltimore, June 27.—Oscar W. Underwood, of Alabama, and Champ Clark, of Missouri, had been put in nomination before the Democratic National convention at 12:30 A. M., and at that hour other nominating speeches were in order. There was no idea of reaching a vote during the night, however, an agreement having been reached to postpone the balloting until noon, Friday, or possibly later.

Both the Underwood and Clark nominations called out prolonged demonstrations among their enthusiastic followers.

A fight by William Jennings Bryan "to rid the Democratic party of the Ryan-Belmont-Morgan interest" delayed the beginning of nominating speeches at the night session from 8 o'clock until nearly 11. Mr. Bryan at first proposed a resolution to throw Thomas F. Ryan, of the Virginia delegation, and August Belmont, of the New York delegation, out of the convention, but he abandoned this plan in the face of a storm of protests from these States. His modified resolution declaring against any candidate under the influence of interests carried overwhelmingly.

Convention Hall, Baltimore, June 27.—William Jennings Bryan tonight led the Democratic convention into a declaration of progressiveness, unheard of in political history.

A resolution introduced by him which was passed by a two-thirds majority, declared the convention opposed to the nomination of any candidate for President under obligation to J. Pierpont Morgan, Thomas F. Ryan, August Belmont or any "privilege seeking class."

The convention was thrown into a furor by the proposition, which was originally introduced calling for the withdrawal of Ryan and Belmont, delegates from Virginia and New York, respectively. This part of the resolution was resented as invading the rights of sovereign States and when its full import became known boos and cat calls, jeers and hisses were mingled with hand clapping, cheers, and stamping of feet in the galleries and on the floor.

Representative H. D. Flood, of Virginia, dramatically characterized the proposition as insolent and said it came from "the only man who desired to destroy the Democratic party."

Former Governor McCorkle, of West Virginia, called it foolish. Mr. Bryan made the situation even more dramatic by asking Virginia and New York to request a modification of the resolution and when they scorned the suggestion he took that course himself. From that moment sentiment changed, and the early voting indicated that Mr. Bryan was the exponent of progress, retained his hold upon Democracy.

After disposing of the Bryan resolution, the convention proceeded with nominating speeches for a candidate for President, the indications being that a ballot would not be reached until well along toward morning.

Urged by the distributed information that the nomination of a Presidential candidate would be made before the convention adjourned tonight, crowds of spectators began to file into the convention hall early. By 7:30, half an hour before the hour fixed for the session, the galleries and the guest seats on the floor were filled, and the spectators were beginning to crowd the aisles.

Many of the spectators in the galleries were again prepared for general demonstrations in favor of their candidates. Banners, lithographs and all sorts of noise making paraphernalia were carried into the hall by the early arrivals in the galleries. A big squad of Princeton students and alumni—practiced cheering men—occupied seats. Squads of Clark supporters also took places in the gallery.

In the stage behind the platform where the officers and the speakers were placed, Washington society blossomed forth. Wives and daughters of Congressmen formed the greater part of the crowd in the stage stand.

Again tonight a wave of heat struck the convention hall. Fans were in great demand.

William J. Bryan entered the hall shortly before 8 o'clock and as he made his way to the rear of the platform was cheered again and again.

Mrs. Taft arrived soon after Mr. Bryan and went to the place reserved for her.

Senator LaFollette was present at the night session.

Chairman James called the convention to order at 8:13 P. M., and the Rev. K. Ross Stevenson, of Brown Memorial church, Baltimore, offered prayer.

United States Senator Smith, of South Carolina, protested that delegates were being kept in the hall by the police. "It is an outrage on decency," he shouted. There was much confusion.

Chairman James directed the sergeant-at-arms to see that delegates were admitted.

Mr. Bryan here arose and sprung a decided surprise by introducing a resolution and asking for its immediate consideration. Mr. Bryan read as follows:

"Resolved: That in this crisis in our party's career, and in our country's history, this convention sends greeting to the people of the United States, and assures them that the party of Jefferson and of Jackson is still the champion of popular government and equality before the law. As proof of our fidelity to the people, we hereby declare curselves opposed to the nomination of any candidate for President who is the representative, or under any obligation to J. Pierpont Morgan, Thomas F. Ryan, August Belmont, or any other member of the privilege hunting and favor-seeking class.

"Be it further resolved, that we demand the withdrawal from this convention of any delegate or delegates constituting or representing the above named interests."

The Nebraskan was interrupted by cheers several times during the reading of the resolution.

"Is there objection to immediate consideration?" asked Chairman James.

"I object," said a member of the connecticut delegation. "I demand his name," shouted Senator Luke Lea, of Tennessee, a Bryan lieutenant.

"My name is Thomas J. Spellacy," said the objector.

He is an alternate.

"Objection having been made I move to suspend the rule and consider the resolution at this time," said Mr. Bryan. The convention was thrown into an uproar.

Chairman James warned the spectators to keep quiet.

Governor Gilchrist, of Florida, made a point of order that the convention had no right to take the action suggested by Mr. Bryan.

Chairman James held the convention had the right to do what it saw fit, and declared the motion in order with 20 minutes on each side for debate.

A delegate from Connecticut rising to a parliamentary question demanded to know if Mr. Bryan was not a regularly accredited member of the State delegation.

"The gentleman will consult the list of delegates and find out for himself," said Chairman James.

Mr. Bryan then began his argument for the resolution.

"This is an extraordinary resolution, but extraordinary conditions need extraordinary remedies," said Mr. Bryan. "We are now engaged in conducting a convention that will place before the people a progressive nominee and I assume that each delegate is here because he wants that nominee elected, and it is in order that we may advance the interests of our candidate that I introduce this resolution."

"There are questions upon which we may assume the American people are informed," he continued.

"And there is not a delegate in this convention who does not know that an effort is being made right now to sell the Democratic party into the bondage of the predatory interests.

"It is a most brazen, imprudent and insolent attempt to make the nominee of this convention the bond-slave of the men who exploit the people of this country."

He then denounced Messrs. Ryan, Belmont and Morgan as the men involved.

"Someone has suggested," continued Mr. Bryan, "that we have no right to discuss the delegates here."

"I said it," interrupted Governor Gilchrist, of Florida, who remained on the platform.

"I say," retorted Mr. Bryan, "that if these men are willing to insult six and a half million people Democrats ought to speak out against them and let them know we resent the insult.

"I for one am not willing that Ryan and Belmont should come here with their paid attorneys and seek secret conferences with the managers of the party. No sense of politics will keep me from protecting my party."

Mr. Bryan said he could not speak for the delegates they had their own responsibility. If the delegates wanted the man mentioned to run the convention Mr. Bryan said he and those he represented wanted a chance to go on record. He refused to take the responsibility of doing otherwise.

"I will make you a proposition" said Mr. Bryan; "one of the men—Mr. Belmont—sits with New York; the other—Mr. Ryan—with the Virginia delegation. If New York will take a poll of its vote and if a majority—not Murphy but a majority of its delegates will protest against the withdrawal of Mr. Belmont and if Virginia on roll call will protest the withdrawal of Mr. Ryan I will withdraw the last part of my resolution requesting their withdrawal from the convention.

"But I will not withdraw the first part, which demands that our candidate shall be free from entanglements with these men."

Again the convention was in an uproar and Mr. Bryan found it difficult to proceed.

Representative Flood, of Virginia, asked for recognition and Mr. Bryan yielded to him. While Mr. Flood was waiting for the convention to grow quiet, he indulged in a sharp interchange with Mr. Bryan, the latter finally stepping back and taking his seat on the platform. Applause and interruption prevented Mr. Flood from speaking for several minutes.

"In the name of that sovereign State

WILSON FORCES OVERRULE CREDENTIALS COMMITTEE

Win Signal Victory By Seating 10 Wilson Delegates From South Dakota With Many Votes to Spare —New York's Vote Goes Solid for Jersey Governor — Ollie James Makes Keynote Speech.

Baltimore, June 27.—The Bryan-Wilson Progressives won another victory in the convention today when the delegates overturned the report of the Credentials Committee and seated 10 Wilson delegates from South Dakota.

The Wilson supporters claimed that the vote made the nomination of Woodrow Wilson a practical certainty.

New York's 90 votes which yesterday went to the Clark-Harmon combination, today were cast in a block for the Wilson delegates. The announcement of New York's vote was greeted with cheers from the Wilson delegates.

Demonstration Starts

Tumult interrupted the work during the debate on the report of the Credentials Committee involving the seating of contesting Clark and Wilson delegates. The Wilson adherents started the demonstration and the Clerk, Underwood and other factions not to be outdone, at once took it up. The uproar became general, floor and galleries standing on chairs and yelling madly. Banners of all sizes and hundreds of lithographs of the various candidates were raised. The Missouri and New Jersey standards were torn from the clamps and a disorganized struggling procession filled the aisles of the delegates' section. Several women appeared on the floor during the demonstration. The galleries, crowded with partisans, were quieted with the greatest difficulty. The demonstration lasted 20 minutes.

The third day of the convention opened at 12:45 amid scenes of great animation with the floor and galleries of the vast hall filled to their utmost capacity. Eager expectancy was manifested on all sides at the near approach of the struggle for the nomination. Mrs. Taft, wife of the President, occupied one of the front boxes, the guest of Mrs. Mack, wife of the Democratic National chairman.

Planning the Fight

Before the convention was called to order Senator Luke Lea, of Tennessee, leader of the Bryan forces, former Senator DuBois, Senator Stone and former Governor David Francis were gathered in a group discussing what Senator Lea termed "The South Dakota Steal." Lea, in no uncertain terms took the Clark Missourians to task for their attitude toward the South Dakota contest where the Wilson delegates were replaced by Clark men, by the majority report of the Credentials Committee.

When the group broke up Senator Lea hurried to the platform to plan the fight on the Credential Committee's majority report. The South Dakota case was being discussed in every delegation. The 10 Wilson delegates had been unseated by the Credentials Committee and the Clark delegation substituted after the National Committee had put its seal of approval on the Wilson delegates.

South Dakota Case

The Credentials Committee based its action upon the claim two Clark tickets had together polled more votes than the Wilson delegates. The Clark delegation seated by the Credentials Committee appeared on the South Dakota ballot under the head: "Wilson-Clark-Bryan Democracy." It secured about 400 less votes than the Wilson ticket. A straight ticket headed, 'Clark for President polled about 2,000 less votes than either of the others.

The Credentials Committee turned out the Wilson delegates by a narrow vote, 28 to 23, and Wilson men on the committee announced at once their intention to carry the fight to the floor of the convention. Temporary Chairman Parker began pounding for order at 12:45 P. M.

Five minutes later the delegates were listening attentively to the opening prayer of Rabbi A. Guttmacher. The prayer ended, the convention plunged into the South Dakota contests, R. S. Morris, of Pennsylvania, submitting the minority report favoring the Wilson delegates.

A nervous thrill went through the crowded armory as an audacious photographer set off a flashlight directly under the gallery where Mrs. Taft was seated. The wife of the President seemed very much annoyed.

Fears of Panic

Those in charge of the convention were fearful of anything that might start a panic and orders against flashlights were given to the police.

William A. McCorkle, of West Virginia, supported the majority report. He argued that the Wilson-Bryan-Clark ticket had been publicly pledged to Champ Clark.

Mr. McCorkle concluded with a vigorous defense of the Clark action in South Dakota, and Senator Luke Lea yielded to M. M. Crane, of Texas, for the minority report.

As the debate on the South Dakota cases continued it was said that the line between the Clark forces on the one side and the Bryan-Wilson forces on the other would be sharply drawn. The vote was impatiently awaited and after the first two speeches cries of "Vote, vote" began to rise from the floor.

Impatient for Vote

As the debate went on the delegates became impatient and the speakers were frequently interrupted by shouts of "Vote, vote." Much disorder prevailed when Theodore A. Bell, of California, took the platform to close the debate for the majority report. Bell charged that the second Clark ticket had been put in the field in South Dakota to divide the Clark vote. A chorus of "boos" from the Wilson supporters greeted this statement. The New Jersey delegation were immediately in front of the platform.

"Be honest, be honest," they shouted. "Hearst! Hearst! Hearst!"

Over 7,000 votes in South Dakota were cast for Champ, shouted Bell.

"And for Wilson," yelled the New Jerseyites, and beldam broke loose on the floor. Several Wilsonites tried to again question Bell. Finally Brewer, of Mississippi, demanded: "Who received the majority of the Democratic votes in South Dakota?"

"Champ Clark," replied Bell.

"No, Wilson, Wilson, Wilson," shouted the New Jersey crowd.

Wilson Demonstration

A question hurled at Bell by ex-Governor Blanchard, of Louisiana, started a Wilson demonstration that began in the galleries. A series of Wilson lithographs were hoisted on poles at regular intervals among the spectators and an organized cheer was begun.

The Champ Clark people did not let the Wilson people get away with all the demonstration. They too hoisted banners proclaiming "Champ Clark, our next President."

The Underwood people soon put up their banners and joined in the demonstration.

"What is the issue? the tariff: What is the answer? Underwood!"

This was one of the banners flung out by the Alabama delegation. The New Jersey delegation held aloft a big "Win with Wilson" banner. A banner 40 feet long bearing the name "Massachusetts" appeared over the Massachusetts delegation.

The Wilson supporters yelled loudly when a banner inscribed "New York.

WILSON IS NAMED CHEERING IS WILD

New Jerseyman Placed Before Convention at Early Hour This Morning—Nomination Speeches Concluded at 4 A. M.—Another Demonstration Is Launched—Balloting Follows.

STILL IN SESSION.

At 5 o'clock this morning, the Democratic National Convention in Baltimore is still in session, and is hearing nomination speeches for the several candidates. Only a few speeches yet remain to be made, and the leaders have decided to take a ballot upon completion of the speeches which will be later in the day. Each nominating speech has been followed by prolonged demonstrations, which have hindered the work of the convention.

Baltimore, June 28.—2:29 A. M.—At an early hour this morning the Democratic National convention was in session endeavoring to reach a first ballot in the fight to nominate a Presidential candidate.

After six hours of oratory and noisy demonstration, the names of Oscar W. Underwood, Champ Clark and Simeon J. Baldwin were before the convention.

At 2:10 A. M. New Jersey was recognized to nominate Woodrow Wilson, and a wild demonstration began. Indications at that time were that a first ballot would not be reached before daybreak.

Despite the heat and the length of the session, the galleries were still crowded with men and women.

At 2:45 A. M. the Wilson demonstration was still in progress, despite the fact that the nominating speech had not yet been delivered.

From a side entrance a parade filed into the hall. Banners bearing the names of 20 New York counties and the words "Wilson and Win" were carried by the marchers. Wilson banners of every description fell into line. The New Jersey, Texas and Pennsylvania standards swung into the procession.

Many of the marchers were not delegates, but outsiders and spectators. Half a dozen uniformed messenger boys went into the parade.

Big Wilson banners were hung over the edge of the gallery when the demonstration began. One of these announced Wilson as the "Yankee Doodle-Dixie candidate."

One of the marchers carried in a big rooster that was held on high by an enthusiast who climbed into the press stand. Meanwhile, the crowd kept up a terrific din, whistling, cheering and blowing horns. A score of parti-colored umbrellas were raised and one of the spectators in the galleries began throwing improvised confetti among the delegates.

An attempt was made to carry the Wilson banners to the platform, following the example of the Clark adherents, but the officers of the convention ordered it down and they continued their parade about the hall.

Meantime, Mr. Wescott stood waiting an opportunity to speak.

At 3:10 the Wilson enthusiasts had held sway for an hour, and no attempt had been made to restore order or clear the aisles.

One of the Underwood delegates, from Alabama, apparently resenting the intrusion of the Wilson marching clubs from outside the hall, addressed the chair with a megaphone:

"Mr. Chairman," he said, "please notify all these bell boys and waiters that we will need them at the hotel this morning for breakfast."

At 3:15 A. M. the Wilson demonstration passed the record made by the Clark people earlier in the session. It had been under way an hour and five minutes. At this time the noise began to subside and the sergeants-at-arms started in to clear the aisles, the police assisting.

At 3:20 order had been more or less restored. Then some one brought an electric automobile horn in the hall, and pandemonium broke loose again.

At 3:25 Mr. Wescott began his nominating speech of Governor Wilson.

At 4 o'clock Judge Wescott finished his speech and another Wilson demonstration was begun.

By the time Wescott was well into his speech a somnolent quiet had settled over the big hall, broken every now and then by the rounds of applause that greeted the speaker's eulogy of Wilson. The galleries, half filled with both men and women, had subsided into sleepy silence.

A few busy boys and men passed about the hall peddling sandwiches and water—for a substantial consideration—to the exhausted delegates and spectators.

The convention floor had taken on the appearance of a circus ground after the performance. The debris of the night of wild disorder was strewn about the place. The State standards, broken and battered, leaned drunkenly awry above the heads of the delegations. Several of the delegations slept fitfully, head on breast, awakening with a start as each gust of applause swept the room. A highly colored lithograph of Wilson glared down from one of the galleries, where it had been hoisted during the Wilson demonstration. Even the police on post along aisles leaned heavily on the seats, or shifted uneasily.

It was 4 o'clock when Wescott concluded and his peroration set off another demonstration by the Wilson forces. The sleepy delegates awoke to life, and aided by the band, they raised a din. Once more the standards were wrenched from their places, the Wilson banners again put in an appearance, and the parade around the hall once more was on. Five minutes of demonstration found the parade piled in a struggling mass of delegates, marchers, chairs and banners, at the head of the center aisle. The yelling continued and the band aided the uproar. In the gallery the shrieking automatic auto horn was again turned loose to add to the pandemonium of sounds.

Chairman James, when the demonstration had been 15 minutes under way, decided that it had gone far enough. He pounded his desk, ordered the sergeants-at-arms to clear the aisles and then ordered that the roll call be resumed.

The clerk called for Florida, and that State was passed on the list. The chairman announced J. R. Anderson to second the nomination of Underwood.

While Anderson lauded Underwood, and the South, the black windows at each end of the hall gradually grew gray with the coming dawn.

"The day has at last dawned on true Democracy," declared Anderson, and the big crowd, watching the slowly lighting windows, applauded vigorously.

Illinois furnished a few minutes of oratory by Douglas Patterson, who seconded the nomination of Champ Clark.

(B. W. P. M. Turner.)

Convention Hall, Baltimore, June 27.—It is now 1 A. M., and a Clark demonstration has been going on for 30 minutes, with no sign of abating. As the newspaper people describe it, it is a genuine Hearst demonstration. Delegates from something over 20 States have pulled the tall posts, bearing the names of the States, from their fastenings and have them grouped on the front ends of the platform. From the platform waves a large American flag and hundreds of small flags are fluttering in the hall.

The first nomination speech was that of Underwood and this was followed by a demonstration which lasted 27 minutes.

There now appears practically no doubt about the convention's being in session all night and no prospect of a nomination being made until well up in the day. What will be the final outcome no one can tell and the doubt is as great tonight as it was yesterday or as some days ago. The Wilson leaders feel wonderfully encouraged over the victories that have been won during the past two days under the leadership of Bryan. There still appears considerable doubt, however, about his ability to get the two-thirds vote. Bryan followers are quietly working and opinion is that what they consider the psychological moment an effort will be made to stampede the Wilson and Clark strength to Bryan. Flashlight after flashlight has suddenly startled the great crowd tonight.

Clark is not nearly so strong as he was two days ago and the opinion is growing that he cannot be nominated.

Bryan's action tonight in bringing before the convention his resolution did not meet with favor among the thinking men of the various candidates. They say that while the party, of course, does not believe in the interests controling the party, that nothing is really gained by the resolution, but it has a tendency to make the party seem populistic and against all business. Some of the Wilson mean fear Bryan's action tonight will hurt their candidate.

The crowd tonight is the largest since the convention first opened. The tremendous hall became crowded and thousands are on the outside. Some time before the convention was called to order the doors on the front were closed and many who had tickets were not able to gain admittance by ticket, persuasion, or any other way. All over the hall extra policemen are stationed and some soldiers, it being feared that a stampede might occur. Two seats back of me sits Charlie Bryan, brother of William J. It is noticed that he is wearing a Wilson button and is showing no interest in the Clark demonstration, although the first day of the convention he had on what looked to be an enormous Clark button, although it was bottom up.

In an edition of the Sun, just out at 1:30 A. M., it says:

"If Wilson cannot be nominated, Bryan is for Kern; if Kern cannot be nominated, Bryan is for Gaynor; if Gaynor cannot be nominated then Bryan is for Foss, of Massachusetts; if Foss cannot be nominated, Bryan is for Underwood.

"The position of the conservatives is understood to be this: Underwood is first choice after Clark. If Clark is not nominated, they will try to have Underwood accepted. If Underwood cannot be nominated they are for Gaynor. If Gaynor cannot be nominated they are for Kern."

ACCIDENT IN SAMPSON

Prominent Young Lady Drowned In Waters of Big Coharie

(Sampson Democrat).

On Tuesday morning of the past week Miss Lizzie Robinson, of near Ingold, was drowned in the waters of the Big Coharie while taking a swim with several others. Her terrible accident and tragic death shocked the whole county, and made sad the hearts of a large number of friends and relatives. With Miss Robinson in swimming were her sister, Miss Annie Beatty Robinson, Miss Alderman and Mr. Allie Vann. Her brother, Mr. Frank Robinson, who was sick, left the bank of the stream a few minutes before the accident, giving them warning to come out. When he had gone only a short distance from where the bathers were in he heard the screams of the young ladies. Hastening back he found that all of them had gotten into a deep hole in the bend of the river, where a whirlpool was making it doubly hard for the swimmers to maintain their heads above the water. The young ladies could not swim and when Mr. Robinson reached the water he found that they were all clinging to Mr. Vann, who, while he was doing his utmost to save them, was being pulled down himself. He quickly unloosed Mr. Vann and they went to work in an effort to save the other swimmers. Mr. Vann was completely exhausted by his efforts. They first rescued Miss Alderman who was by this time unconscious. Next the two men shoved a log out in the water to where the other two ladies were coming up for the last time. Miss Annie Beatty Robinson managed to grasp the log in her struggles and to cling to it until she was drawn in, unconscious and almost dead. The rescuers then made an heroic effort to save Miss Lizzie, but before they could get to her she went down for the last time. About three-quarters of an hour afterward her body came to the surface and was taken from the water. The young lady who was drowned was the daughter of the late A. F. Robinson, a prominent farmer in the county. Her mother has been dead for several years. She was 19 years of age, and was popular among a wide circle of acquaintances. We offer our sympathy to the distressed relatives and friends.

BAN ON SHORT BATHING SUIT

Atlantic Mity's Mayor Will Tone Down Gay Crowd

Atlantic City, June 27.—The wearing of abbreviated bathing costumes by either men or women is prohibited in an order issued by Mayor Bacharach to take effect at once. Ball playing on the beach and the use of profanity are also put under the official ban.

The beach patrol and life guards have been directed to give one warning and follow that with an arrest if violations are continued. A heavy fine is provided.

DEMOCRACY'S LEADER.

Oscar Underwood's Name Placed Before Convention Last Night.

Democracy's real leader and best asset, invulnerable in his record of long public service, impurturbable in action and impregnable in honor, and blameless in his private life, was the way in which Oscar W. Underwood, of Alabama, was described to the convention by Wm. B. Bankhead, of Alabama, who nominated Mr. Underwood for the Presidency.

After declaring that the Republican party "had become, in the hours of its present degenracy, the embodiment of complacent incompetency and broken faith" and that, although it claimed to be the "protector of labor, the fruits of labor have been gathered as dividends by illegal combinations in restraint of trade," Mr. Bankhead asserted that the Democratic party had been acting safely and conservatively.

Then, going on to describe the qualities needed in a leader who could carry the Democratic party to success he said it would be logical to put Mr. Underwood in command of the forces in that battle where his brilliant achievements already had created Democracy's opportunity and redeemed Democratic pledges. The chief issue before the country, he said, was the tariff; and Mr. Underwood "has fought, with the foresight of a patriotic statesman, and will continue to fight for a lower cost of living, for an equal opportunity for all men through the enactment of a new and righteous tariff."

The sum total of Republican achievements since the last election, declared Mr. Bankhead, "has been the further impoverishment of the poor, plus a placid tariff board whose deliberations give no reasonable promise of relief from the present unbearable burdens." He attacked the Republican campaign as a "humiliating spectacle of a tirade of recriminations, in which the high ideals of statesmanship had been thrown to the winds."

One benefit of this, he said, was that it had brought "the dawning of that good day when the people are to restore to full power and responsibility the Democratic party, which has made it evident that it intends to serve the real interests of the people if it can be given full opportunity to redeem its solemn pledges.

"The acts of the Democratic party," he continued, "have appealed to the judgment of the country as wise, conservative and yet safe and progressive.

"Although success, under right conditions, is within our grasp," he warned, "never has it been more essential than now for us to nominate our best and strengest men. There is no safety in picking our nominee in haphazard fashion from among those who possess this or that special gift, unless it has some intimate relation to the requirements of an exacting campaign, to the chief issue before the people and to the duties and needs of our greatest executive office.

"If any intelligent, loyal Democratic entertains doubts as to what that paramount issue is, that part of the platform just adopted dealing with this question should resolve all his doubts. The Democratic party, true to its best traditions as the servant of the people, has pledged itself to a revision of the tariff, fair to the manufacturer but fair also to the consumer and the public. There are other issues, but for the time our platform makes it clear that they are subordinate.

"So unjust is the present tariff that no one, Democrat or Republican, today dares rise up and defend its further continuance, for it stands for industrial favoritism and industrial bondage, and for a prosperity which is artificial and spasmodic, and not real and enduring.

"What manner of man then," he asked, "shall this convention raise up to be its standard bearer? He should have had political training and experience, for these are almost as essential qualifications in a nominee for the Presidency as are the clinic and class-room for the physician and surgeon. Without any pretentious parade of the virtue, he should be progressively conservative and conservatively progressive.

"He must be well balanced, thoughtful, deliberative; and yet, in ability to inspire enthusiasm among his fellows be a natural leader of men. While he must be popular, he must possess that enduring popularity which has for its sure foundation established character and true worth; and he must be ready to serve in command or in the ranks. He must have the capacity to win great honors for the Democratic party, and so establish it in the public confidence that the people will grant to it a long tenure of office.

"His availability as a candidate cannot be questioned. It is gratifying to those who know the generous hearts of the American people to appreciate the fact that sectional differences are forgotten, and the once-called Mason and Dixon's line has long since been tramped out by the footsteps of friendly intercourse and commercial relations.

"Our condidate is a master of every detail of tariff legislation, upon which hang our reasonable hope of relief from insufferable conditions. Nominate him, and the platform instead of being so much party declaration, will become the creed of a waiting people. Nominate him, because his sterling reputation is not the creation of a day or night, but the sure and steady growth of 18 years of splendid service in Congress culminating in conceded party leadership.

"He is a man who in moral action is bound by the Ten Commandments; in debate by dignity and decorum; in intercourse by gentleness and candor; in victory by modesty and magnanimity; in action by prudence and courage; in government by the Constitution and law. He can counsel without haughtiness and reprove without scorn. He fears no man's censure, but inspires every man's respect.

"Knowing him blameless in his private life; invulnerable in his record of long public service, importurbable in action and impregnable in honor, Alabama presents for the Presidential nomination the name of Democracy's real leader and best asset—Oscar W. Underwood."

Lieut. C. B. Mayo, U. S. N., Stricken in Mediterranean.

New York, June 27.—Lieut. C. B. Mayo, U. S. N., of the United States steamship Scorpion, suffered from appendicitis, was taken in an ambulance from the steamer Ivernia, which arrived today from Mediterranean ports, to the naval hospital in the Brooklyn Navy Yard.

Lieutenant Mayo was seized with appendicitis during the trans-Atlantic voyage. Owing to rough weather the ship's surgeon feared to perform an operation on board.

According to the surgeon, Lieutenant Mayo's condition is not serious.

READY FOR FIGHT.

Arrangements Completed for Johnson-Flynn Bout.

East Las Vegas, N. M., June 27.—With the Johnson-Flynn contest but a week off, preparations for the fight have been completed. The list of those who will officiate was today completed with the naming of Otto Floto, of Denver, as official timekeeper for Flynn, and Al Tearney, of Chicago, and Tom Flannagan, of Toronto, for Johnson.

Today the roads had dried up and Johnson went 14 miles, finishing strong. Flynn announced that he would not train tomorrow, but would take a day of rest after which he would continue to train until the day of the fight.

London, June 27.—Pethick Lawrence, who with his wife and Mrs. Emeline Pankhurst was sentenced to 15 months imprisonment at the Old Bailey Sessions on May 22nd, on the charge of conspiracy and inciting their followers to malicious damage of property, was liberated today.

"Clicquot" makes the warm days Bearable

There is nothing like "Clicquot Club" to help you over the warm days. It refreshes. It cools. It satisfies. And it offers the mild stimulating quality and light food value so grateful on a hot summer day.

Clicquot Club GINGER ALE

(Pronounced Kleek'O Club)

A touch of ginger—as any doctor will tell you—is an excellent thing in the summer; and the ginger used in "Clicquot Club" is the best and purest ginger that Jamaica produces. This, with the fruit oils and fine quality confectioners' sugar used in "Clicquot," is just what the stomach craves. It is positively non-astringent.

DRINK "CLICQUOT CLUB" AND YOU'LL FORGET THE WARM DAYS

Other Clicquot products with the Clicquot purity and flavor:

CLIQUOT CLUB SARSAPARILLA. CLIQUOT CLUB LEMON SOUR.
CLIQUOT CLUB ROOT BEER. CLOQUOT PHOSPHATE ORANGE.
CLIQUOT CLUB BIRCH BEER.

Sold by the best grocers generally. Not to have Cliquot is a confession no good grocer likes to make.

NEBRASKAN STILL MAN OF THE HOUR

of Virginia," shouted Flood, "I accept the insolent proposition made by the only man n this convention who wants to destroy Democratic success."

This brought many of the delegates to their feet with a roar. While the disturbance was on Mr. Ryan arose from his place in the Virginia delegation and got a shout of greeting from those seated near him. Mr. Flood, after accepting the Bryan challenge, retired. The New York delegation had been missing up to this time—engaged in a State caucus. They came in while the uproar was going on and added to the tumult.

While a dozen men were trying from the platform to bring the convention to order, Senator-elect Vardaman, of Mississippi, came to the front of the platform and made an appeal for order.

"You can't settle anything by the use of your throats," he shouted to the turbulent convention.

"The time has come for reason, moderation and thought. You cannot afford to throw away the opportunity now before the Democratic party."

Mr. Vardaman declared the Bryan resolution contained "in part some merit." He approved the first part. He did not think the convention should touch upon the right of the States in the selection of delegates."

"At the same time," added Vardaman, "I think the fewer we have of the class named by Mr. Bryan, "the better chance we will have in November."

John W. Price, of Virginia, also asked time from Mr. Bryan to make a statement.

"On behalf of the State of Virginia we protest as to the latter part of the resolution," he said, "but no one will accede more heartily to the first part of it." He declared Virginia had been able to control her internal affairs and did not ask outside aid.

"If there are undesirable men in the Virginia delegation," he said, "Virginia will take the responsibility. Virginia can right her wrongs and demand her rights without outside interference.

Mr. Bryan resuming his argument, said he would modify his resolution as to Virginia and the unseating of Mr. Ryan, as two men had spoken for that State objecting to the latter part of the resolution.

"Does New York ask the withdrawal of the last part of the resolution?" questioned Mr. Bryan.

"No, no," came from the floor.

"Withdraw it yourself," shouted some one.

"I prefer to hear from New York herself."

The New York delegation sat in absolute silence.

"Then I yield the floor to the opposition, reserving the right to close the discussion," said Mr. Bryan.

Former Governor William A. McCorkle, of West Virginia, asked from the floor for an opportunity to speak and was called up to the platform.

After declaring that the Democratic party has never been controlled by any interests, Mr. McCorkle said, "I appeal to every Democrat in the convention. Is not the resolution a senseless and foolish resolution?" Applause and cheers greeted him.

"Go for him," shouted some one. "Hit him again," shouted another. Governor McCorkle said the resolution could only produce strife and trouble and had put success further off than it had been "half an hour ago."

He hoped it would be "the duty of the convention" to vote down the resolution and not alienate "the substantial interests of the country."

Governor McCorkle pleaded for compromise when it did not mean a compromise of principle. "This resolution has no need here tonight," he said.

"That's right," came a voice.

Representative Flood arose, he said, to correct what he believed to be a misapprehension on Mr. Bryan's part.

"Virginia asks nothing of Mr. Bryan," he shouted. "We do not feel that we have to go to him for advice or counsel."

A great cheer interrupted him.

"Hit him again," came again from the floor. "We are with you."

"A convention of 1,000 Virginians—as honest men as William J. Bryan ever was—" began Mr. Flood, and another uproar interrupted him. "As good Democrats as he ever can be, elected without a dissenting voice Thomas F. Ryan, a delegate to this convention."

Another outbreak followed this. Hisses came from several parts of the hall.

Representative Flood declared again that Virginia "accepted the challenge of the only man who wishes to destroy the Democratic party."

Delegates in various parts of the hall, mounted their chairs and waved their hats, but the greater of the applause came from outside sections.

"I'm glad he proposes to withdraw that part of it which reflects upon the integrity, manhood and honor of Virginia," concluded Flood and a cheer greeted his conclusion.

"When Mr. Flood had concluded, Mr. Bryan arose to close his argument. He said it was not necessary for Mr. Flood to deliver an eulogy of the State of Virginia. It was where his father was born and he would be the last to raise a question as to the integrity of its Democracy.

Nor is it necessary for me to defend my own Democracy."

"Boo, boo," came from a contingent of the delegates.

"Sit down, sit down," called others.

"I do not intend that any delegate shall shield his vote against the principal part of this resolution by hiding behind the last part.

"In answer to the argument that this resolution should not be introduced here to disturb harmony, I commend to the gentleman from West Virginia the Bible dostrine: 'If thy right hand offend thee, cut it off.'

"My resolution will not be worth defending when it becomes necessary to defend it from the charges of a friend of Thomas F. Ryan. I now withdraw—"

A chorus of mingled cheers and jeers greeted this statement.

"Vote, vote," came a shout.

"And I'm sure if it is worth while to cut off the right hand to save the body, it's worth cutting off Ryan and Belmont and Morgan to save the Democratic party."

With this Mr. Bryan sat down.

Lewis Nixon, of New York, then took the stage.

"The sovereign State of New York does not ask that any part of this resolution be withdrawn. We ask for a vote," declared Mr. Nixon.

Chairman James had the resolution read as modified by Mr. Bryan. It omitted all of the last paragraph, demanding the withdrawal of delegates representing Ryan, Belmont or Morgan.

Lewis Nixon and several other delegates protested against Mr. Bryan being allowed to withdraw any part of the resolution, demanding a vote on it as a whole.

The question then was put—on the motion to suspend the rules and pass the resolution.

The convention was in disorder as the clerk called "Alabama."

A chorus of points of order and violent demands that all of the original resolution be read broke forth.

Out of the confusion it was revealed that it would require a two-thirds vote to suspend the rules and adopt the resolution. Alabama finally voted 24 noes.

Before the next State could be called, the floor was in complete confusion. Arizona was called five times and no response could be secured. Arizona voted five ayes and one no. After wild disorder Arkansas cast a solid 18 for the resolution and Colorado was passed.

Connecticut's 14 voted no. By this time the disorder was such as to make the call of the roll impossible and Chairman James ordered the aisles cleared and the delegates seated.

Each delegation had gathered in an excited group in an effort to poll the vote. The issue caused an argument in each State's representation.

When some semblance of order was restored the chair ordered the proposition started again and made it plain that a two-thirds vote was necessary to pass the resolution. The roll call was then begun again, only to again inspire confusion on the floor.

"Let's adjourn for 20 minutes to fix this up," yelled a delegate. But things quieted down a bit and the call was resumed.

On the new attempt to call the roll the States began to shift.

Another wave of confusion swept the room and the roll call proceeded in a tumult of shouts, protests and jeers that rose above the steady hum of excited conversation among the delegates trying to arrange the votes of their States.

It was almost impossible to follow the roll call.

The 58 votes of Illinois were cast for the Bryan resolution and the result was greeted with a cheer.

Virginia was called out of turn and she voted 23 1-2 aye, 1-2 no. Charles F. Murphy, standing in the center aisle, shouted: "New York votes 90 aye."

The crowd cheered the announcement.

Missouri, Champ Clark's home State, voted 34 ayes; 2 noes.

Regarding the half vote from Virginia, it was that of Robert Tunstall. Mr. Tunstall announced himself when there were shouts that it was the vote of Mr. Ryan.

After New York and Virginia had voted half a dozen States demanded an opportunity to correct their votes. Indiana shifted 21 votes from the no to the aye column. Several other States endeavored to shift before the end of the roll call.

By this time it became apparent that the States were generally shifting to favor the resolution. The conservative leaders went from delegation to delegation working feverishly. Evidently they passed the word that the resolution as modified was not 'objectionable. The success of the proposition then was certain.

The vote which gave the resolution two-thirds of the votes in the convention was cast by Texas. That State voted 40 solid for the resolution. This gave the proposition 737 votes. Seven hundred and twenty-six was two-thirds with the six Philippine delegates eliminated by this afternoon's action. Before the result of the roll call was announced Delaware, Florida, Connecticut, Montana and half a dozen other States shifted votes to the aye column. Then others followed.

The vote was: Ayes, 889. Noes. 146. Not voting 2, absent 1.

Chairman James then announced the calling of the roll in the States for the nomination of candidates for President and a motion was adopted under the gavel limiting nominating speeches to 30 minutes and seconding speeches to five minutes.

When Alabama, the first State on the roll was called, the chairman of the delegation announced that William B. Bankhead, son of Senator Bankhead, would speak. He placed in nomination Oscar W. Underwood.

When Bankhead concluded at 11:13 P. M., the Alabama delegates leaped cheering to their seats. They were joined by the Georgians and other Underwood delegates. Underwood banners and Underwood pictures were held far aloft. The band played Dixie. Then while the Underwood demonstration was on, a Georgia delegate, Thomas J. Brown, walked to the stage and released a white dove of peace. The dove seemed frightened by the lights and noise and fluttered down to one of the clerk's desks.

Next the Underwood forces started a parade through the aisles, two of them carrying little Miss Brewer, the 14-year-old daughter of Governor Brewer, of Mississippi, at the head of the line.

The Underwood enthusiasm continued for 26 minutes.

The call of the States then was resumed. Arizona yielded to Missouri and James A. Reed, of that State, took the platform to nominate Speaker Champ Clark. He was applauded as he began.

Senator Reed concluded at 12:25 and a demonstration for Clark was immediately started and continued for some time.

The Clark demonstration which began at 12:25 lasted one hour and five minutes. Quiet was restored at 1:30 and the meeting of the platform committee at 11 o'clock tomorrow was announced.

J. T. Robinson, Governor-elect of Arkansas, then took the platform to second the nomination of Clark.

Robinson talked just five minutes. California seconded the nomination of Clark. Colorado was passed. Then came Connecticut and Henry Wade Rogers, of New Haven, took the platform to nominate Governor Simeon E. Baldwin, of Connecticut.

Mr. Rogers finished his speech nominating Governor Baldwin at 2 A. M.

At 2:10 A. M., Delaware yielded to New Jersey to place Woodrow Wilson in nomination.

AT ELON COLLEGE.

Physical Trailing to be Feature at This Institution.

Elon College, N. C., June 27.—President Harper announces very satisfactory arrangements for next year relative to the physical exercise of the student body. Miss Clements remains in her post as director of physicul culture for young women, a position she has filled with eminent satisfaction for the past two years. As previously announced the gymnasium room in West Dormitory is to be fitted up with the latest gymnastic appliances for young ladies. The contract for the necessary structural changes looking to this end was let last week to the Standard Boiler & Machine Company, of Greensboro, N. C., and the installation will begin July 1st.

Coach R. S. Doak will have charge of the general athletic life of the young men of the college, a department in which he last year served with exemplary success, putting out the first all-amateur bona fide student baseball team in Elon's history. There was not a single man on the team who had even played Summer ball and yet these amateur men during their first year's advent into college athletics won more games against the strong teams they opposed than they lost. It is gratifying that Coach Doak is to return to his post of responsibility. Mr. A. L. Hook, Winchester, Va., is manager of the baseball team next year, and Mr. R. S. Thompson, Aurora, N. C., is captain. G. G. Holland, Holland, Va., is tennis manager; R. M. Homewood, of Southern Alamance is track manager, and C. C. Johnson, Jr., Siler City, N. C., is manager of the basketball quint. These men may be depended upon to represent their various department with signal ability and due regard to the high standard of sportsmanship prevailing here.

The college is also fortunate in the selection of its physical director for the new men's gymnasium, this Summer to be erected. The director is Mr. R. N. Miller, Richmond, Va., who for four years has successfully filled a similar position in the Railroad Y. M. C. A. of that city and who is now engaged in further studies for his new responsibilities in Y. M. C. A. physical training school of New York City. He enters upon his duties here September 1st.

SPIVEY'S SUICIDAL ATTEMPT

Sent to Asylum In Raleigh—Personal Items from Roseboro

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Roseboro, N. C., June 27.—On Saturday, June 22nd, Spivey Butler, a well-known citizen of Roseboro, attempted to commit suicide near Fayetteville, by trying to jump through the train window while it as crossing the river, being prevented by several who were near him; after arriving at Fayetteville he was suspicioned again by a crowd who followed him to the river, where he was again prevented from accomplishing his efforts. He was placed in jail until his father from Roseboro arrived and was then taken to the asylum at Raleigh. Mr. Butler lost his wife some time ago, which it is thought is the cause of the trouble.

H. R. Simpson, a Cumberland negro, was arrested Monday and arraigned before Esquire Beard, of Beaver Dam township, for trial, under a charge of larceny. Simpson was acquitted and the prosecutor taxed with the costs and placed in the custody of the constable until paid.

Messrs. M. M. Hall and Capt. B. F. Hall, are attending the Democratic Convention at Baltimore this week.

There will be a game of ball in Roseboro, Saturday the 29th, between Roseboro and Stedman. If it is like the other games, it will be a good one.

NATURE'S ESSENCE.---Extracted From Forest Plants.

Nature's laws are perfect, but disease follows if these laws are not obeyed. Go straight to nature for the cure, to the forest; there are mysteries here that we can fathom for you. Take the bark of the wild-cherry tree, the root of mandrake, stone, Oregon grape root, queen's root, bloodroot and golden seal, make a scientific, non-alcoholic extract of them with just the right proportions and you have Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

It took Dr. Pierce, with the assistance of two learned chemists, eight years of hard work experimenting to make this pure glyceric extract and alterative of the greatest efficiency and without the use of a particle of alcohol.

E. WILLIAMS, ESQ.

Just the sort of remedy you need to make rich, red blood, and cure that lassitude and feeling of nerve exhaustion. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery bears the stamp of PUBLIC APPROVAL and has sold more largely in the past forty years than any other blood purifier and stomach tonic.

"Some time ago I got out of health—my stomach seemed to be the seat of the trouble," writes MR. EZRA WILLIAMS, of Belleville, Kans. "I commenced to doctor with all the doctors at home as well as with other specialists on stomach and digestive organs. None seemed to do any good—in fact, most of the medicines did me harm. Finally, I wrote to Dr. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., who replied, stating that I had liver complaint with indigestion and constipation, and advised Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Pleasant Pellets.'

"The 'Discovery' and 'Pellets,' have 'put me on my feet again'—seemed to be just what I needed. I could not have recovered without them."

THE MORNING STAR

Published by the
WILMINGTON STAR COMPANY, INC.,
Wilmington, N. C.

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Wilmington, N. C., under Act of Congress, March 2nd, 1874.

FULL ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.

PUBLISHERS' ANNOUNCEMENT.

THE MORNING STAR, the oldest daily newspaper in North Carolina, is published daily except Monday, at $6 per year, $3 for six months, $1.50 for three months, 50 cents for one month, served by carriers in the city, or by mail.

THE SUNDAY STAR, by mail, one year, $1; six months, 50 cents; three months, 25 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES may be had on application, and advertisers may feel assured that through the columns of this paper they may reach all Wilmington, Eastern Carolina and contiguous territory in South Carolina.

Obituary sketches, cards of thanks, communications espousing the cause of a private enterprise or a political candidate, and like matter, will be charged at the rate of 10 cents per line, or if paid cash in advance, a half rate will be allowed. Announcements of fairs, festivals, balls, hops, picnics, society meetings, political meetings, etc., will be charged under same conditions, except so much thereof as may be of news value to readers of the paper.

Advertisements discontinued before expiration of contracts are charged transient rates for time actually published. Payment for transient advertisements must be cash in advance. Contract advertisers will not be allowed to exceed their space at same rates, or advertise anything foreign to their regular business without extra charge. Advertisements to occupy special place will be charged for according to position desired.

TELEPHONES: Business Office, No. 51; Editorial and Local rooms, No. 61. Call either, if the other doesn't answer.

COMMUNICATIONS, unless they contain important news, or discuss briefly and properly subjects of real interest, are not wanted; and if acceptable in every other way, they will invariably be rejected unless the real name of the author accompanies the same, not necessarily for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith.

Friday, June 28, 1912.

Col. Roosevelt means well strenuously and "does things" feebly.

A boss is a leader who doesn't do things to suit us. A leader is a boss who has our consent to do whatever he pleases.

An eminent dyspepsia specialist advises: "Leave the table hungry." Well, if the table is empty, how can it help being hungry?

You can say as many mean things about a man as he can say about you, but what's the use if he can't be convinced that you are right about it?

The most robust egotism is that which is manifested in the megiomania that enables a man to imagine that he is a darned sight bigger than his party.

We hated to see the Nebraskan make an issue of Parker and Bryan just as soon as the Baltimore convention met. It had nothing to do with this campaign.

Considerable fun has been had at the expense of Vice President Sherman, but Sunny Jim certainly has displayed marvelous wisdom in his ability to saw wood and say nothing.

It is estimated that the delegates to the Chicago convention spent $1,500,000 for drings and amusements. They might have spent more, but they couldn't leave the convention hall and miss a free show.

The Georgia Legislature is in hard luck. It met Wednesday and can hardly expect to do anything to detract attention from what has been done at Chicago and what is being done at Baltimore.

Probably the Baltimore platform will nit suit Col. Bryan, but what is a platform between friends? Look what he made us stand on when he had his way with the three platforms upon which he ran for the Presidency!

Be a good loser! When you go down, do it with your colors flying, but at the same time reach out and grab a life preserver rather than get your colors wet. That is discretion, which has the reputation of being the better part of valor.

The highbrow expression for the short and ugly word of "lie" is "the nefarious opposite of the truth." That is what Chancellor Brown, of the New York University, called it in a lecture on the "Decay of Truth Telling." The rottenness of conscience and the wilt of self-respect cause the decay of truth.

Says the Sovannah Morning News: "Talk of a party headed by Roosevelt and Bryan, in the event the latter decides to walk out of the Baltimore convention, is a waste of time." That's just about it. William Jennings would never follow, and Teddy could never be hitched up and driven to the Nebraskan's apple cart.

The Wilmington Star says "the Democrat who rocks the boat now ought to be thrown overboard so he can get in the swim with the other Jonahs." There appears to be only one Jonah in the Democratic party this year, and the party is now too wise, too great and too powerful to be swamped by one individual.—Salisbury Post.

One Mr. Tom Watson, of Georgia, boasted that he was going to Baltimore to lock horns with Col. William J. Bryan. So far he has not been heard from. After looking the Colonel over the red-headed Georgian must hav concluded that the Nebraskan looks about the size of the man responsible for swatting Billy Patterson.

ONLY FIGHTING DEMOCRATS

The only cloud on the horizon of Democracy is the evident intolerance of many progressives and the comparatively few Democrats who have been dubbed "conservatives" or "reactionaries." There really is no radical difference between the Democrats of varying shades of opinion. They are one in the fundamental principles of Democracy, they have a universal sentiment that the interests of the people and the safety of the country demand a Democratic administration. They are agreed that it must be a united Democracy that shall hope to take this government out of the hands of special interests and restore it to the people.

If this is true, what common sense is there in the disposition of some Democrats to come to the parting of the ways over less vital issues and really inconsequental questions compared with the urgent necessity of destroying the Republican party which, by its own flagrant acts, has brought menace to the government and insurrection in its own ranks? Democrats must not divide over questions that can be settled later and they must not stop to split hairs when there is opportunity to overthrow Republicanism — the one original and overwhelming cause of the situation as it so ruinously affects the masses and the country.

Republicanism must be held responsible for the unrest of the people. They have risen in powerful protest at being "held up" for the benefit of plutocrats whose pawns the people are, made so by oppressive tariff laws passed in accordance with the policy of the Republican party. The people are compelled to submit to being taxed to enrich the few, and to us the idea is monstrous. Let us unite to destroy the party guilty of that infamous wrong and downright oppression, and if we are in earnest we should make all sorts of concessions on the trivial questions, the more or less important issues, and the mere bagatelles over which Democrats seem disposed to quarrel.

Democrats must not differ too seriously over non-essentials—not even over men. Each of us would like to have our choice for President but if we can't get him we must take any good man rather than lose a chance to put the predatory Republican party out of business. The real enemy in front is the Republican party which compels the masses to render tribute to tariff beneficiaries and trusts. Tariff laws are passed that enable the predatory interests to wring excessive prices from the pockets of the people, and after we put an end to the party responsible for looting the public for the gain of aggregated capital there will be plenty of time to make ourselves small by wrangling over theories and experiments.

There should be no such things as "progressive" and "reactionary" Democrats. We are simply Democrats, and we are mighty poor ones if we display intolerance on so-called progressive or so-called reactionary lines. We may carry different kinds of ammunition but we are fighting in the same trenches in a common cause. We will waste our ammunition if we stulify ourselves by disputing about it.

An army with decimated ranks is in need of recruits, and if they are needed to win a victory the line gets together and fights together. The time has been when Democrats thought they needed Populists in their business. Democrats, believing that any way to win was justifiable favored fusion with the widely differing Populists. If two different parties, antagonistic in principle, can get together in a common cause, it is much more reasonable and decidedly more wise for all kinds of Democrats to fuse. Reasonable concessions, less rancor, and more compromise of opinions is what we want. A divided army wins no victories. It is whipped in detail, and neither detachment would gain anything if either were crushed.

Let us hope real Democrats are not going to quibble over such terms as "progressive" and "reactionary," while a common enemy wins because it is fighting a divided host.

If Democrats could stand Populists in an attempt to elect Col. Bryan President in 1896, "progressives" and "conservatives" certainly can stand together and fight together in the one big cause—the destruction of the party of special privilege. There should be no progressive Democrats or conservative Democrats. This is a time calling for fighting Democrats.

THIS IS A PEACH COUNTRY

Eastern North Carolina is a natural peach country, a region specially adapted to the production of early peaches. Tidal Carolina does not simply grow peaches but the finest of peaches—all kinds of peaches. We have known it all along. We have preached it. We can prove it.

The Star can prove it by Mr. G. T. Emmart, superintendent in this district for the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company. Mr. Emmart resides in Wilmington and has a home and farm in the arcadian preserves of East Wilmington, where land produces big profits based on an asset valuation of $100 to $500 per acre. Mr. Emmart is a good witness, for he has made a splendid success at growing peaches in East Wilmington. Yesterday he sent this deponent a basket of red, luscious and juicy peaches that would make the Elberta pale into insignificance as to blush or flavor. The East Wilmington product were most as large as a prize fighter's fist, and they dripped juice like nectar. They were fine and no peach-growing country could produce handsomer or better fruit.

These splendid peaches were grown on Mr. Emmart's "Oak View Poultry Farm," in one of Wilmington's prosperous suburbs. The fruit from Mr. Emmart's trees last year were exceedingly wormy and consequently worthless, but the fine, wormless product this year shows where intelligence and care triumph over inattention and negligence. When Mr. Emmart took hold of the place, the trees were neglected, thriftless and infested with borers. He at once adopted the plan of cleaning out the borers by spraying regularly and keeping his trees trimmed and healthy. The result is that he got two and a half bushels of premier peaches from one moderate-sized tree. He has a number of trees of a later variety which he is now compelled to prop up in order to prevent the trees from breaking down.

Mr. Emmart is a capital witness as to fine peaches and peach growing, for he was reared in the peach section of Maryland. It means something, therefore, when he says he is very enthusiastic over the adaptibilities and possibilities of the Cape Fear section for growing peaches. The testimony of Mr. Emmart is only cororboratory of that of Mr. R. J. Jones, Jr., Mr. Thos. F. Bagley, and others who declare that the Cape Fear section is equal to any fruit-growing section of this country. Peaches first ripen here about the 25th of May, and those who have trees are delighted with the result.

Growing peaches is a process requiring intelligence and attention, like everything else that is expected to yield satisfactory results. To plant trees and neglect them invites failure, but Mr. Emmart's plan meets with rich reward. It would do so on a large scale, and it is time that we make this section the rival of south Georgia and southwestern South Carolina in the production of early peaches. For years The Star has urged the planting of regular peach orchards for commercial purposes, and we are gratified to say that this country is producing more peaches every year. Our people who own land ought to give their orders for peach trees now and be ready to set them out in large numbers this Fall. Some of them will be bearing in two years, and when this section begins to produce in large quantities, we can turn the refrigerator cars from one big strawberry crop tor cars from our big strawberry crop money crop right up with another.

This is a fine peach country and we ought to realize it and profit from the knowledge. We reap a million or more dollars a year from strawberry growing and the harvest of wealth from peaches ought to be as great as it is in Georgia.

WILL COL. BRYAN LEAVE US?

Most all the press comment on the Bryan-Parker incident at the Baltimore convention, so far as we have observed, indicates a loss of patience with the distinguished Nebraskan. It was more in sorrow and regret than resentment that the Colonel's course has been referred to by many papers that were beginning to feel more like the country would sooner or later turn to him as the leader in a movement wihch is the outcome of his preachments. We are satisfied that the people and press of this country were growing closer to Col. Bryan, but he has the unfortunate faculty of doing something at the wrong time to militate against his own popularity and opportunities.

There is no use to deny that in many respects Col. Bryan is a strong man and is exceedingly valuable to the Democracy. He may have done harm to it, in a way, but no man in America has so strong a personal following as the Nebraska statesman. If Col. Bryan could possibly eliminate himself and fight as hard for the Democracy as it has fought for him, in three losing campaigns, he would be a tower of strength to the party.

Unfortunately, Col. Bryan only yielded half-hearted support to Judge Parker in 1904, and already his course at Baltimore is causing wonder whether he will be as lukewarm in this fight as he was when Parker was a candidate and sorely needed his utmost influence and strongest support. Already the Colonel has declared that he is not in sympathy with the Baltimore convention, because of his disappointment at not being able to defeat Judge Parker for the temporary chairmanship. He also declined to act as chairman of the committee on platform and rules, and even absented himself from the committee's meeting, a highly important one, it must be admitted.

We must infer from this that Col. Bryan does not care to identify himself with the convention or the platform in a manner that he would consider that he is bound by what is to be done at Baltimore. In other words, it appears that he has left the way open to repudiate the convention, and its platform, and leave himself free to oppose the candidate if he is not suited. At the same time, Col. Bryan gave himself one more chance by having the convention to reverse its precedent by voting to nominate a candidate first and adopt a platform afterwards. If the nominee suits the Colonel, he probably will join in to arrange a platform that will be agreeable to the nominee and satisfactory to him.

CURRENT COMMENT.

But then the man who is too radical may come about as near being right as the man who is too conservative.—Durham Herald.

As Mr. Bryan did not bolt the convention that nominated Judge Parker we have no idea what they could do to him to cause him to bolt now.—Durham Herald.

Through the liberality of Mr. C. M. Burns Wadesboro is to have a park and an association is to be formed and definite plans made for the development of a pleasure resort. The Messenger and Intelligencer says it will be a "more appropriate and sensible spot for love making than the cemetery."—Charlotte Chronicle.

Well Taft has won; but he has little over which to be elated in the present or sanguine for the future. In fact, surveying the shattered fragments of his faithful soldiery and comparing them with the superb and united hosts which swept him into the Presidency four years ago, he may well exclaim with the Pyrrus, King of Epirus, who after the hard-fought battle of Heracles answered the congratulations of his generals by saying: "One more such victory and I would be undone."—Norfolk Virginian-Pilot.

Georgia ranks fifth in the cotton manufacturing States of the Union, according to the report of the census bureau, Massachusetts and Rhode Island coming first, in the order named. In this State there are 27,803 persons engaged in the manufacture of cotton goods and the value of the annual product is $48,036,817. The industry ranks seventh in the United States in the value of products, there being 1,324 establishments, with 387,771 persons engaged, capital invested $822,237,529, and the value of the annual product $628,391,813.—Savannah News.

Beginning in 1831 and ending in 1872 no fewer than 12 National conventions were held i Baltimore. Andrew Jackson was nominated there in 1832, and William Henry Harrison, a Whig, in 1840, and all the opponents of Abraham Lincoln, three in number, were nominated in Baltimore in 1860. Polk was nominated in 1844. Cass in 1848, and in 1852 Franklin Pierce was nominated on the ninth ballot—all in Baltimore. Lincoln was re-nominated there in 1864, and the Democratic convention that nominated Horace Greeley was held in Baltimore in 1872.—Birmingham Age-Herald.

RURAL LETTER CARRIERS.

Ninth Annual Session to be Held in Asheville Next Week.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Rocky Point, N. C., June 27.—The Eastern North Carolina Rural Letter Carriers' Association will be represented at the ninth annual convention of the State Association at Asheville July 3rd and 4th, by R. F. Gore, of Wilmington; Joseph Wilson, Warsaw, and E. D. Pearsall, Rocky Point. Headquarters will be at the hotel Langren, the newest, largest and highest hotel in North Carolina. It is seven stories with convention hall and roof garden overtowering all other buildings in the city, near the public square. Automobile trips will be made over the good roads that wind around the mountain. There will be addresses by Hon. Locke Craig, Judge Pritchard and representatives of the Postoffice Department.

WILSON'S LUCKY NUMBER 13.

Hence His Friends Believe He Will be Named on Thirteenth Ballot.

Baltimore, Md., June 27. — Wilson men say they expect the convention to run to the thirteenth ballot and then name the Governor of New Jersey as the standard-bearer of the party. Governor Wilson considers 13 his own private lucky number. Here is a list of his reasons:

There are 13 letters in his name—Woodrow Wilson.

There are 13 letters in his slogan—Win with Wilson.

He was 13 years on the faculty of Princeton.

He was the 13th president of Princeton.

He sleeps in No. 13 berth when he travels.

There were 13 men at the first council of his mangers in Baltimore.

Baby's Voice

Every woman's heart responds to the charm and sweetness of a baby's voice, because nature intended her for motherhood. But even the loving nature of a mother shrinks from the ordeal because such a time is usually a period of suffering and danger. Women who use Mother's Friend are saved much discomfort and suffering, and their systems, being thoroughly prepared by this great remedy, are in a healthy condition to meet the time with the least possible suffering and danger. Mother's Friend is recommended only for the relief and comfort of expectant mothers; it is in no sense a remedy for various ills, but its many years of success, and the thousands of endorsements received from women who have used it are a guarantee of the benefit to be derived from its use. This remedy does not accomplish wonders but simply assists nature to perfect its work. Mother's Friend allays nausea, prevents caking of the breasts, and in every way contributes to strong, healthy motherhood. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. Write for our free book for expectant mothers.

COLORED PORTER KILLED.

Shot to Death at House of Woman at Rocky Mount by Son.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Rocky Point, N. C., June 27.—Solomon Boykin, colored porter for the A. C. L. here, was shot and instantly killed at the house of Jane Howard by her young son about 9 P. M. last night. It is alleged that he had a jug of whiskey and used insulting language to the Howard woman when her son shot and instantly killed him. Solomon leaves his wife.

If an ancestor could have seen a few generations ahead, he would have been ashamed to be one.

MR. JOHN QUINCE MYERS DEAD

End Came From Heart Failure, Brought on by Exhaustion in Surf Bathing at Wrightsville Beach Yesterday Afternoon.

Mr. John Quince Myers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. B. Myers, of No. 205 South Eighth street, and one of the most popular young men in the city, died on Wrightsville Beach early last evening from an attack of heart failure, brought on by exhaustion while surf bathing in front of the Carolina Yacht Club.

One version of the story was to the effect that he had become exhausted in saving Miss Isabel Williams, of this city, after she had become exhausted, but this was not confirmed by others.

Dr. R. B. Seem, of this city, and Dr. J. W. Hooper, surgeon in charge of the James Walker Memorial Hospital, worked for nearly an hour and a half in an effort to resuscitate Mr. Myers, but it was seen that nothing could be done. From the time he was brought out of the water not a pulse beat was noticeable, and it is thought that death came while he was in the water, or soon after being brought out.

Miss Isabel Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Williams, was spending several days as the guest of Miss Corbett, at the cottage of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Corbett, on the beach. The two young ladies had gone surf bathing from the cottage, and were awaiting Mr. Myers at the Club, he having telephoned them that he would be down. On his arrival at the beach he secured a bathing suit at the Seashore Hotel bath rooms and then went to the Yacht Club, where he joined Miss Williams.

Both were good swimmers, and they started out through the surf. According to one version, they had gotten out probably 50 or 75 yards when Mr. Myers seemed to lag behind. Miss Williams turned and called to him to come on, and as she did so she noticed a queer, strained expression on his face. She became frightened, and started back toward him. As she drew near, the young man seemed to become completely exhausted, and gave up all effort at trying to swim. Miss Williams screamed for help, and started swimming toward the beach. Mr. M. J. Corbett, from his cottage nearby, ran into the water and carried Miss Williams out on the sands.

The other version of the sad occurrence was that Miss Williams became exhausted and that Mr. Myers brought her in to a point where the water was not over her head, and then became exhausted himself and gave up struggling.

Mr. Spencer Nichols, son of Mrs. Allan Nichols, was the first to reach Mr. Myers, and at that time he was unconscious and floating on his back. The water was slightly over Mr. Nichols' head at this point, but he shoved Mr. Myers toward the shore and began pulling him in. Other rescuers soon reached his side and they carried Mr. Myers to the beach, where they were met by Dr. R. B. Seem, who was at the club house at the time. Dr. Seem felt to see if Mr. Myers had any pulse, but he could discover no sign of life.

Mr. Myers was taken into the bath room at the Club House, while Miss Williams was assisted by several ladies to Mr. Corbett's cottage. She was none the worse for her experience after she had rested, though she was not told last night that Mr. Myers had died.

In the meantime, Dr. Seem had started his efforts to resuscitate Mr. Myers. A few minutes later Dr. J. W. Hooper, surgeon in charge of the James Walker Memorial Hospital, who was coming to the beach to take supper with Dr. Seem, arrived at the club house. He at once went to work assisting Dr. Seem.

For over an hour and a half the two physicians worked like heroes, resorting to every means known to medical science to bring back some sign of life. They tried every known method to induce artificial respiration, and when these all failed a tank of oxygen was secured from a nearby cottage and this was administered in the hope that it would be of some avail. The physicians worked till they were both utterly exhausted, and relieved each other even after that, till long after they felt that there was any hope.

They were also assisted by Miss Columbia Munds, a trained nurse, who was at the beach. Hypodermics, strycnnine and atropine were all administered, but with no effect. At 7:35 the doctors announced that Mr. Myers was dead. Dr. Seem announced it as his opinion that death resulted from heart failure, induced by exhaustion, and he stated that from the first he had felt that there had been no hope of reviving the young man.

Mr. Clarence Myers, a brother of the deceased, was telephoned at 6:55 that his brother was in an extremely critical condition, and he took the next car for the beach, arriving at the Yacht Club just about the time the physicians abandoned their efforts to resuscitate the young man. Mr. Myers was heart broken over the sad occurrence, as he had seen his brother alive and well in the city only a few hours before. Half an hour later Mr. Geo. B. Myers, father of the deceased, and Misses Reba and Kate, two sisters, arrived at the Yacht Club. They were met at the car by a number of ladies and the sad news was broken to them. All were prostrated with grief. They returned to the city on the next car, going to their home, where Mrs. Myers, their mother, and Mr. Burton Myers and Miss Edna Myers, the other brother and sister, had already been apprised of the heart breaking news.

Mr. Myers was 26 years of age and had been employed at the general offices of the Coast Line here for 12 or 14 years. At the time of his death he was holding an important position in the accounting department. He was one of the most popular men in the general offices as well as in the city, having hundreds of friends in every walk of life. Scores of sorrowing friends called up The Star to learn the facts of his death. Mr. Myers was a member of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, and was superintendent of St. John's Episcopal Sunday School. He was also interested in all other lines of church work.

Upright, Christian and manly, possessed of a fine business ability and a noble disposition, John Q. Myers was a most promising young man in every sense of the word. The bereaved parents, brothers and sisters will be remembered with tender and sincere sympathy by the entire community in the great sorrow that has come upon them.

Mr. Myers, with Mr. Chesley C. Bellamy, another well known young Wilmingtonian, had recently purchased a tract of about 100 acres of land just outside of Hendersonville, in the mountains of this State, and had planned to enter the fruit growing, poultry and stock raising business there. Mr. Bellamy is at Hendersonville now and Mr. Myers had only returned about three weeks ago, having completed the transaction for the property at that time. He intended to leave Wilmington the middle of next month.

Dr. C. D. Bell, the coroner, was informed of the death of Mr. Myers last evening and was advised that death probably resulted from heart failure and not from drowning. He gave permission for the removal of the body to the city. The remains were turned over to Mr. James F. Woolvin, the undertaker, and he went to the beach about 9 o'clock, bringing the body to his establishment in the city, where it was prepared for burial. Later it was removed to the family residence on South Eighth street.

The funeral will be held from St. John's Episcopal church this afternoon at 5:30 o'clock. Interment will be in Oakdale cemetery.

CAUSES MORE RAILROAD TALK

Transfer of Sans Souci Farm From Mayor Smith to C. D. Weeks, Esq. Contains Over 200 Acres and Some on Water Front.

Giving further credence to the persistent rumors that the Norfolk Southern or some other railroad is planning to construct a road into Wilmington to make a bid for the ever increasing business of this port, was the announcement yesterday that the property of Mayor Joseph D. Smith located just north of Smith's Creek, between the Castle Haynes road and the Northeast river, had been purchased by C. D. Weeks, Esq., for a consideration above $20,000.

The property contains something over 200 acres, of which about half is highland and the other is of swamps and rice fields, but can be reclaimed at a small cost, according to government experts who made an investigation at the instance of Mayor Smith a few years ago. The land has a frontage on the Northeast river of 2,100 feet; fronts on Smith's creek for one fourth of a mile, and on Hanlper creek for the same distance. The property also abuts on the Castle Haynes road for a short distance. It is considered ideally located for farming, manufacturing enterprises or for railroad terminals. Those who put faith in the report that the Norfolk Southern is panning to enter Wilmington point out that there is a strong probability that the road will want to build through the Sans Souci farm, as deep water for terminals could be had without building a trestle across Smith's Creek as would have to be done should the road enter any other way. Should a new railroad enter through the Sans Souci farm it would strike the Atlantic Coast Line tracks about the point of the brick yard of Roger Moore's Sons & Co.

While it is not known whether it is Mr. Weeks' purpose to keep the property in the belief that in a short time it will be worth several times its present value, is not known, yet it was learned that already several persons have visited the property and have made offers, each being considerably above the amount paid for it.

A report that the Norfolk Southern is contemplating a line into Wilmington has been current for several weeks and has been given pub. city in these columns. With the announcement of the sale of a portion of the Sans Souci farm there was a revival of the report, and it was said last night that one of the several surveys reputed to have been made was through this tract of land.

One well known business man who owns property in that section of the city, remarked to a Star representative yesterday that "there is evidently something doing somewhere; if it is not a new railroad then it is something else almost as important." The gentleman quoted was strongly of the opinion that there is to be a new railroad entering Wilmington in a short time.

SUIT IN EQUITY.

Action Started in United States Court Here Involving Title.

Mrs. Mary Burgwyn, of Pittsburg, Pa., has started suit in the United States Court here against Mr. Matt J. Heyer to determine the possession of certain lands and boundary lines in dispute, and a temporary injunction has been granted by Judge Henry Grove Connor, restraining the defendant from going upon the lands in question until the matter can be argued before him here July 12th.

The complainant has an interest in the Hermitage tract, on the Castle Haynes road, six or eight miles from the city, and she alleges that the lines claimed by the defendant overlap the boundaries of her land. The complaint asks that the defendant's deeds be declared null and void so far as they affect her interests and property. The proceedings are in the form of a bill of equity to quiet title. It is alleged that the defendant claims about 192 acres of land that belongs to the complainant.

Mr. Heyer several years ago purchased a large parcel of real estate on the Castle Haynes road from the Latta estate. This land adjoins the holdings of Mrs. Burgwyn. The latter is represented by Iredell Meares, Esq., and Geo. F. Meares, Esq., of this city.

—Robert H. Brown, colored, was arrested yesterday afternoon at the Clyde Line yards by Patrolman H. G. Bullard on a charge of the larceny of a carton of snuff consigned to the J. C. Stevenson Company. The snuff was in the negro's possession.

BORDEAUX CASE DISMISSED

Recorder Holds That Husband is Not Guilty of Abandonment and Non-Support When Wife Leaves Him—Other Cases.

Holding that the defendant was not guilty of a charge of abandonment and non-support because his wife had admitted in her testimony that she left him, Recorder John J. Furlong, on motion of Brooke G. Empie, Esq., of counsel for the defense, yesterday morning dismissed a criminal action brought by Mrs. Wm. A. Bordeaux against her husband, W. A. Bordeaux. The evidence was heard Wednesday, and the case was left open until yesterday.

In support of his motion made Wednesday Mr. Empie argued that by leaving her husband the plaintiff had abandoned him, and that the joint charge of abandonment and non-support brought by her against him could not stand. He stated that the Supreme Court had held in passing upon the particular statute that the charge of non-support would not hold by itself, and that the action was invalid unless the charge of abandonment could be substantiated. He pointed out that while on the stand Mrs. Bordeaux had testified that her husband had always provided for th support of her and their children until the time when she had left him, and also that he was willing to support her if she would come back to him.

Wm. J. Bellamy, Esq., private prosecutor, argued that Mrs. Bordeaux had testified that her husband's brutal treatment of her had made it impossible for her to live with him and that she had warned him if he did not treat her better she would leave him. He contended that this was an abandonment on the part of the husband.

Recorder Furlong took the matter under consideration over night and yesterday morning dismissed the case.

Few other cases were tried yesterday. A case against Dr. M. M. Caldwell, charging him with operating his automobile after dark without having his rear lamp lighted, was nol prossed. It was stated that Dr. Caldwell was answering an emergency call at the time, and that he did not take time to light the lamp.

John LeGrand, colored, was charged with vagrancy. A nol pros with leave was taken. One drunk was assessed the usual $5 and costs.

ODD FELLOWS MEMORIAL

Impressive Service at Brooklyn Baptist Church Sunday Night

The four local lodges of Odd Fellows, the Cape Fear, Orion, Wilmington and Hanover, will hold their annual memorial services at Brooklyn Baptist church Sunday evening at 8:25 o'clock. Rev. J. A. Sullivan, the pastor, will deliver the memorial oration.

An impressive programme has been arranged and the services will be of their usual interesting nature. The members of the four lodges will assemble shortly before the hour of service and march in a body to the church where seats will be reserved for them.

The following will be order of the exercises Sunday night: Orchestra selection; invocation, opening ode, Scripture reading, prayer, quartette, orchestra selection, "Our Departed Brothers," duet, sermon, closing ode, benediction. The public is cordially invited to attend the memorial services.

Right Leg Amputated

Robert Spicer, colored, apparently about 25 years old, had his right leg amputated just above the knee at the James Walker Memorial Hospital last night by Dr. J. W. Hooper, the surgeon in charge of the institution. The man's leg was run over by a train and the bones below the knee badly crushed. Whether the accident occurred in the city or at a nearby station was not learned, though one report had it that the negro attempted to get off of a Coast Line train in the local yard before it stopped and was thrown under the car wheels. He was taken to the hospital in the ambulance at 7:15 P. M. Coast Line Railroad officials questioned last night professed ignorance of the accident.

St. Andrew's Won Yesterday.

In a rather one-sided game in the Sunday School League series at Hilton diamond yesterday afternoon St. Andrew's Presbyterian boys won from the Fifth Street Methodist lads by the score of 8 to 0. There were no special features save the pitching of Andrews for St. Andrew's, and the heavy batting of the Presbyterian team. The second series will close today with a game between the Episcopalians and the First Presbyterian teams. Batteries yesterday: For St. Andrew's, Andrews and Shepard; for Fifth Street, Dickson and Todd.

Real Estate Transfers.

Deeds were filed for record yesterday as follows: Solomon Sternberger and wife to J. H. Davis and wife, for $100 and other considerations, lot on Sixth, 165 feet south of Wright street, 33x165 feet in size; Solomon Sternberger and wife to Roger Liles, for $100 and other considerations, lot on Sixth, 132 feet south of Wright street, 33x165 feet in size; F. W. Dick, trustee, to Agnes H. Walker, for $1 and other considerations, lot 7 in block D, Wrightsville Beach Extension.

Sand Fiddlers Take Another.

The Sand Fiddlers defeated the Clams in a rather poorly played game of indoor baseball last night at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium by a score of 14 to 7. Cleapor and Walker for the Sand Fiddlers and Boone and Shepard, for the Clams, formed the batteries. There were no special features, the game being entirely of the ordinary type. Neither team had a full line-up.

Cotton Steamer Cleared.

The British steamer Adra was cleared last night by Messrs. Alexander Sprunt & Son, for Bremen, Germany, with cargo of 4,096 bales of cotton valued at $205,000. The Adra has also on board 2,700 tons of phosphate rock and 84 stands of timber, loaded at Fernandina, Fla., and consigned to Ghent, Belgium, by consignees at Savannah, Ga.

ANNUAL MEETING AT BEACH

State Association of County Commissioners to Assemble at Oceanic Hotel August 14th—Fine Programme Being Arranged

The annual meeting of the State Association of County Commissioners of North Carolina will be held at the Oceanic Hotel, Wrightsville Beach, this year, convening August 14th, and continuing for three days. Arrangements for the meeting to be held at the Oceanic Hotel have just been completed by Mr. Duncan McEachern, chairman of the New Hanover Board of Commissioners and president of the North Carolina association.

Yesterday he mailed to all the County Commissioners in North Carolina circular letters reading as follows:

"Wilmington, N. C., June 27, 1912.

"Dear Sir:—We are pleased to announce that we have arranged with the Oceanic Hotel for our annual meeting, August 14th.

"It is pleasantly located and has a splendid convention hall, together with ample accommodations.

"If you intended bringing your wife, mother, daughter, sister or sweetheart, it would be well to write and secure reservation.

"Yours very truly,

"D. McEACHERN,

"President."

An attractive programme is being arranged for the convention and this will include a number of addresses by prominent men and discussions on topics of particular interest to the county solons. Mr. P. B. Beard, of Salisbury, one of the district vice presidents of the association, arrived at the beach several days ago for a brief sojourn at the resort. The programme will be announced in a short time, it is expected.

The Commissioners held their annual meeting at the Oceanic Hotel (then the Tarrymoore) two or three years ago and nearly every county in the State was represented. The meeting last year was held in Asheville and Mr. McEachern, of Wilmington, was chosen president and Mr. H. L. Vollers, of Wilmington, was elected secretary and treasurer. Mr. W. M. Long, of Charlotte, another leading member of the association, was elected vice president.

The executive committee is composed of the following: W. W. Hooker, Aurora; C. W. Spruill, Quitsna; T. J. Armstrong, Rocky Point; T. S. Collier, Castalia; W. G. Bradshaw, High Point; I. D. Harrelson, Winnabow; J. B. VunCannon, West End; N. B. Mills, Statesville; J. F. Leeper, Belmont; H. A. Tate, Old Fort. The district vice presidents are: Z. W. Evans, Tyner; R. J. Shields, Windsor; J. H. Bell, Pollocksville; D. T. Johnson, Raleigh; W. C. Tucker, Pleasant Garden; J. W. Carter, Maxton; W. B. Long, Unionville; P. B. Beard, Salisbury; O. E. Ford, Shelby; E. W. Patton, Asheville.

MEETING OF BROTHERHOOD

Several Features of Gathering at St. Matthew's Lutheran Church

The regular meeting of the Brotherhood of St. Matthew's Lutheran church last night was largely attended and of more than ordinary interest, as an attractive and elaborate programme was rendered. Mr. W. W. Koch, president of the Brotherhood, presided. One of the features of the meeting was an address by Rev. W. A. Snyder, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, who spoke on "Inner Missions." The other features of the programme were: Piano solo by Mrs. Annie Miller; select reading by Mr. Wm. Oterson; violin solo by Mr. W. W. Koch, accompanied by Mrs. Miller; oration by Mr. George Bowden; vocal solo by Mr. W. H. Diehm, accompanied by Mrs. Miller. Following the exercises refreshments were served by a committee composed of Mrs. Diehm and Mrs. Cowan. It was one of the most enjoyable and profitable sessions held in some time.

Trip Down River Yesterday

Many of the visitors who are here on the annual excursion of the Pritchard Memorial Baptist church from Charlotte went down the Cape Fear yesterday as guests of Capt. Jno. W. Harper on the steamer Wilmington. The day was an ideal one and the trip was enjoyed to the fullest extent by all. Others of the excursionists spent the day at Wirgthsville Beach. The excursion will return to Charlotte this morning.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION

Fourth Annual Meeting of Schools of Wilmington Baptist Association Begins Today at Watha—Local Delegates.

Indications are that the fourth annual Sunday School Convention of the Wilmington Baptist Association, which will be held at Watha today, tomorrow and Sunday, wil be a most successful one from every point of view and a large attendance is looked for.

Among the Wilmingtonians who will be in attendance are Rev. M. O. Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. E. Leftwich, Mrs. C. D. Weeks and Miss Nettie King, of the First Baptist church, all of whom will leave tomorrow morning; Rev. J. A. Sullivan and Mr. R. E. Lewis, of the Brooklyn Baptist church, the former leaving this morning and the latter Sunday; and Rev. W. G. Hall and others from the Southside Baptist church. Rev. A. C. Chaffin, of the Baptist church at Greenville sound, will also attend the convention.

The meetings will be held in the Watha Baptist church and an interesting programme has been arranged. Questions of importance relating to Sunday School work are discussed and there is a general interchange of ideas and suggestions that always prove helpful to the delegates.

The programme will be as follows: Sermon this morning by Rev. J. A. Sullivan.

Closing Session of Annual Bishop's Retreat This Morning—Meeting Has Been Both Interesting And Enjoyable

The annual Bishop's Retreat, given by Rt. Rev. Robert Strange, Bishop of the Diocese of East Carolina, to the clergy of the Diocese, which has been in session at Wrightsville Beach since Monday, will come to an end today at noon, following the final session this morning. The Retreat this year has been a most enjoyable and interesting one and while many of the clergymen were prevented from attending by unforseen matters, it is felt that much good has been accomplished from the daily study and discussions.

At yesterday's session Rev. Thos. P. Noe, rector of the Church of the Good Shepherd, of this city, read a most interesting paper on the book, "Jesus Christ and the Social Question," by Dr. Peabody, and this was followed by a general discussion of the work, participated in by all the clergy. The remainder of the session was devoted to a discussion of matters of interest and importance to the clergymen and an interchange of ideas and theories relating to practical problems arising in ministerial and pastoral work.

The final session will be held this morning at 9 o'clock in the Wrightsville Beach chapel, at which time Rev. B. F. Huske will read a written digest of "English Literature's Account with the Christian Religion," a book by Dr. E. M. Chapman. Following a general discussion of this and other topics the Retreat will come to a close, the clergymen returning to their parishes in time to conduct the Sunday services.

All in attendance have enjoyed the Retreat to the fullest, the recreation features coming in for their share of attention as well as the periods of study and discussion, and the rectors will go back to their charges physically improved and spiritually refreshed.

QUESTION WILL BE SETTLED.

Mayor Thinks That Sewerage Muddle Will Soon be Adjusted.

Referring to the observation made in yesterday's Star in connection with the proceedings of the city Council that the sewerage question would probably not be settled during the present administration, Mayor Joseph D. Smith said yesterday afternoon that so far as he was concerned something definite would be done before the term of the present Council expires. He was of the opinion that the question would be settled within a few months.

There was a report yesterday to the effect that there is some likelihood of the Wilmington Sewerage Co. submitting another proposition to the Council for the sale of the existing plant and that the price and terms may be such that the Council will accept, thus ending the sewerage controversy. However, nothing definite as to this could be learned.

Wednesday's Rocky Mount Telegram: "Mrs. D. H. Ward and grandchildren, of Wilmington; Mrs. A. H. Weeks and children, of Hope Mills; Mrs. J. R. McClenny, of Raleigh, and Miss Madis Boykin, of Richmond, are in the city, visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Friend. They are here to attend the marriage of Miss Maybell Friend to Mr. Clarence Brown, which will occur at the residence of the bride, on Church street, at 8:30 o'clock tonight. The ceremony will be performed by Rev. A. B. Harrell, pastor of Arlington Street Baptist church."

Miss Sallie Wright will be the hostess of a house party next week at her home on Market street. A number of young lady friends have been invited to spend a portion of the month of July with her. They are Misses Harriet and Dorothy Duncan, of Pelham Manor, N. Y., who will arrive Monday, and Misses Lucy Minor, of Asheville, and Laura Woods, of Baltimore, who will arrive Tuesday. Mr. Stowe Crouse of Asheville, will also be a member of the house party. Miss Wright and her mother, Mrs. W. A. Wright, have issued invitations to a number of the younger social set for Tuesday and Wednesday evenings of next week, when they will have the pleasure of meeting the attractive visitors.

PRETTY EVENING WEDDING SOLEMNIZED AT HAMLET.

Hamlet, N. C., June 27.—A beautiful wedding was solemnized here last evening in the Presbyterian church at eight-thirty o'clock, Rev. Henry F. Ellingwood, of New York State, officiating.

The church showed the work of an artist's hand in its decorations of asparagus ferns, white tulle, potted plants, cut flowers, etc., the color scheme being green and white. Several lovely selections were rendered softly and sweetly by Miss Julia Stewart on her violin accompanied by Prof. Frank Roberts, organist, prior to the wedding march. Promptly at 8:30 under the masterly touch of Prof. Roberts the grand march from Tannhauser pealed forth and the bridal party entered in the following order: The ushers who preceeded the bridal party were Messrs. W. B. Carson, C. L. Sauls, Paul Carroll and R. A. Garvin. The bridesmaids wearing white lingerie dresses with bandoes, gloves, slippers and sashes of pink and carrying pink sweet peas and maiden hair fern tied with pink tulle, came down the left aisle in the following order: Misses Janie Clark, Pansy Fetner, Elizabeth MacCreight, Ruth Battley, Nancy Gordon and Mary Gordon, while down the right aisle the groomsmen proceeded in the following order: Messrs. H. B. Long, J. R. Barbour, C. H. Morrow, J. P. O'Brien, H. C. Petty and J. C. Hyman. They crossed on the rostrum forming a semi-circle. The maid of honor, Miss Elizabeth Gordon sister of the bride, came down the right aisle. Her dress a lovely silk marquisette draped over pink messaline. She wore white aigrette as hair ornament and carried a shower bouquet of pink sweet peas and maidenhair fern tied with pink tulle. The groom with his best man, Mr. Hugh W. Purvis, of Americus, Ga., entered the vestry door and at the altar awaited the approach of the bride, who entered down the right aisle on the arm of her father, Dr. J. R. Gordon, who gave her away. Her gown was beautiful in its simplicity. Of heavy white duchess satin with court train, fishu and drapery of heavy Irish lace and pearl trimmings. Her veil was held in place by the same wreath of orange blossoms worn by the bride's mother on her wedding day nearly 30 years ago, and the only ornament she wore was an exquisite old white lava stone brooch, the gift of her great grandfather to her grandmother on her wedding day and worn by her and by her mother, respectively on their wedding days. She carried a bouquet of brides roses with shower of lilies of the valley. In the sacred stillness and hush they were wedded with the old and impressive ring ceremony. After they were pronounced man and wife to the glorious and triumphaul strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March the bridal party left the church and in automobiles and carriages were driven to the home of the bride on "Gordon Heights" where the many guests were tendered a lovely reception by their parents, and were given the pleasure of viewing the enormous display of handsome and exquisite presents which attest the popularity of this young couple. During the laughter and mirth of their friends the bride and groom slipped away in the silvery moonlight and took No. 32, northbound, for Washington, New York and other points North to be away until after August 1st.

The bride is the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Robert Gordon, of this place, and the groom is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. L. G. MacCreight, of Edgemore, S. C., and has for ten years held a responsible position with the Seaboard here. The out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Louis Wachsmuth, Washington, D. C.; Miss Janie Clark, Elizabethtown, N. C.; Miss Elizabeth MacCreight, Edgemore, S. C.; Mr. J. R. Barbour, Benson, N. C.; Miss Julia Stewart, Laurinburg; Mr. and Mrs. Hugh W. Purvis, Americus, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Smith, Raleigh, and Mrs. H. O. Covington and daughter, Miss Marie Covington, of Laurinburg.

STATE BANKERS IN SESSION

Association Has Busy Morning and Devotes Afternon to Pleasure—German Last Night—The Programme for Today.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Atlantic Hotel, Morehead City, N. C., June 27.—After putting in a strenuous half day with three important committee reports and a trio of interesting addresses, the North Carolina bankers today gave themselves up to pleasure. This afternoon they enjoyed a delightful sail to the beach and tonight they are holding their annual german.

The figures are led by Mr. A. B. McMillan, of Fayetteville, N. C., and Miss Cathryn Baldwin, of New York.

This morning reports were offered by standing committees on bills of lading legislation and the Torrens system. Col. John F. Bruton, of Wilson, offered the report on legislation, recommending that the association consider only the bills submitted by a special committee relative to the consolidation and codification of existing laws, with amendment and revision. This report was adopted. An act to make all common carriers responsible for their bills of lading was favored.

H. E. Litchford, of Raleigh, offered the report on the Torrens system, urging the adoption of a bill, copies of which have been mailed to every banker in the State, with request for suggestions.

J. Elwood Cox offered a resolution providing for committee of five to consider the development and financing of agricultural interests in the State. This committee will also send a representative to the National farmers' meeting to be held in St. Paul at an early date.

William Reed, of the National City Bank, of New York, spoke on the prevailing unrest. W. O. Jones, of New York, spoke briefly. J. G. Brown, of Raleigh, scheduled for an address, was not present, and his speech was read by Mr. H. E. Litchfield.

W. C. Wilkinson, of Charlotte, was appointed chairman of the committee on nominations; W. A. Blair, of Winston-Salem, chairman on resolutions, and A. W. Peace, chairman on auditing.

The new officers will be recommended tomorrow morning, when Leake S. Covington, of Rockingham, now vice president, will be put forward for the presidency.

Lee McClung, treasurer of the United States, will address the bankers in the morning and the banquet tomorrow night will close the convention programme.

The bankers are generous in their praise of the entertainment given by Manager A. A. Dubois, of the Atlantic Hotel.

LOCAL DOTS.

—Judge Henry Groves Connor, of the United States Court of the Eastern District of North Carolina, is expected to be here sometime between July 10th and 16th, to hear a number of equity and admiralty cases on the docket.

—Messrs. S. R. Keyes, H. Lacy Hunt, J. B. Rice and L. E. Hall have returned from the annual convention of the National Association of Credit Men, which was held at Boston. Mr. Keyes did not return until yesterday, but the other delegates arrived a few days ago.

—A young white man who gave his name as S. W. Langdon, of Norfolk, Va., was arrested Wednesday on a warrtn issued by Justice Harriss charging him with beating his board bill at the Oceanic Hotel, Wrightsville Beach. He was committed to jail for a few hours, when friends raised the amount, about $20, and the hotel withdrew the action.

—Mary Larrington, an old colored woman, was injured slightly Sunday night on Wrightsville Beach when she attempted to board a city-bound car. She started to grasp the hand rail on the front of the car, instead of waiting for the rear entrance, when the car would have been going slower. She was thrown to the ground and bruised up to some extent. The old woman was brought to the city, and taken to her home at 812 South Fifth street, where she has been receiving the attention of a physician.

Freckle-Face

New Remedy That Removes Freckles or Costs Nothing.

Here's a chance Miss Freckle-Face, to try a new remedy for freckles with the guarantee of a reliable dealer that it will not cost you a penny unless it removes the freckles, while if it does give you a clear complexion, the expense is trifling.

Simply get an ounce of othine—double strength, from any first-class druggist in the city of Wilmington, and one night's treatment will show you how easy it is to rid yourself of the homely freckles and get a beautiful complexion. Rarely is more than one ounce needed for the worst case.

Be sure to ask any first-class druggist in the city of Wilmington for the double strength othine, as this is the only prescription sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.

AFFAIRS AT STATE CAPITAL

Tobacco Test Farm—Stewart. Bros. Fire—State Veterinarians—Betts Stabbing Affair—Other News Notes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., June 27.—The test farm committee of the State Board of Agriculture is just back from a trip of inspection to Durham, Granville, Guilford, Forsyth and Rockingham counties, looking into the desirability of farms offered for sale to the board to be used as a tobacco test farm.

They were in session here much of the day hearing delegations in advocacy of one and another of the farms offered. It is expected that the selection will be made at once. A delegation here from Winston-Salem composed of James K. Norfleet, P. A. Correll and J. S. Kuykendall is urging the selection of a section of the Van-Lindley farm near Kernersville, which it is claimed is splendidly located and has the character of soils that are needed.

It can be definitely stated that the disclosures in the investigation of the famous Stewart Bros.' fire at Winston-Salem are such that prosecutions have been determined upon, the only question now being as to whether there shall be immediate arrests or the cases left for the grand jury of the Superior Court soon to convene. The fire was in the printing house of Stewart Bros., former State printers, and was of such a complicated character that the firm employed leading attorneys of the Twin City as counsel as soon as the investigation began.

At the instance of State Fire Marshal W. A. Scott, Robert Shutt has been arrested in Watauga county to answer the charge of burning the store building of George Roberts. Solicitor Linney, of that judicial district, is co-operating in the prosecution.

Charters are issued for the Sanitary Steam Laundry, Raleigh, capital $15,000 authorized and $2,600 subscribed by H. C. Howell, Jas. L. Woodward and others. And the J. S. Miller Furniture Co., Newbern, capital $25,000, by J. S. Miller and others.

The North Carolina Veterinary Medical Association has adjourned a two days' session here to meet in Salisbury in July, 1913. Its officers for the next year are Dr. L. F. Koonce, of Raleigh, president; Dr. J. P. Spoon, secretary, and Dr. T. N. Spencer, Concord, treasurer. Dr. G. A. Roberts and Dr. T. N. Spencer were recommended to Governor Kitchin for appointment as members of the State Board of Examiners. The board this time licensed four new veterinary surgeons, T. H. Wood, Greensboro; T. N. Groves, of Virginia; R. H. Parker, Gastonia, and B. T. Simms, Raleigh.

The association is preaching the gospel of sanitation quite effectively in its efforts to have cattle stables and the care of milk managed in the most sanitary manner and the members of the association are co-operating with boards of health and the authorities generally in every effort to improve conditions.

Levern Betts has been released under $100 bond for his appearance Friday for the investigation of the case against him for stabbing to death his brother Sunday, the small bond being on account of the police being unable to gather evidence either of a fight between the two boys that brought on the stabbing, or as to there having been anyone else involved for whose protection the killing had been imputed to the lad. These are theories of the killing that the police have been trying, thus far unsuccessfully, to develop. The apparent unconcern of the boy over the death of his brother has puzzled and aroused the suspicions of the police.

While sentiment for Roosevelt was strong in Raleigh and Wake county among the Republicans before the National convention at Chicago, it is believed by those in close touch with the situation hereabouts that the Republicans will stick to the organization and line up for President Taft when it comes to the test. The fact is that Republicans hereabouts seemed afraid, or at least, very backward in coming out for Roosevelt before the convention. There was scarcely a corporal's guard gotten together for the organization of the Roosevelt club that was undertaken several weeks before the State convention.

Republicans are expecting that the National committee will declare the position of National committeeman from North Carolina to which Hon. Richmond Pearson was elected by the State convention vacant on account of Pearson having deserted the party to join the new Roosevelt progressives. And, in that event, it is expected that if he will take it back, the place will be given to E. C. Duncan by the National committee, the committee having the power to fill vacancies. The friends of Mr. Duncan are insisting that he is again in special favor with President Taft and that he has completely eclipsed State Chairman J. M. Morehead, who, they point out, controlled his own county and permitted instructions for Roosevelt instead of taking a stand for Taft as he did personally in his Washington interview.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

—Mr. M. B. Hood, of the local staff of the Charlotte News, is here with the Pritchard Memorial excursionists.

—Mr. Eustace Norfleet returned yesterday from a business trip to New York and a pleasure trip to Atlantic City.

—Among the arrivals at the Colonial Inn yesterday were W. L. Lovingood, Kinston; E. L. Boone, St. Louis; H. F. Gash, Roanoke, Va.; G. W. Dunn, J. J. Gaudet, T. G. Carlton and J. Lynch, New York.

WRIGHTSVILLE BEACH

Miss Margaret Cotton, of Fayetteville, is expected to arrive Tuesday of next week to visit Miss Kate Northrop.

Miss Jean Elliott, of Thorbiskope, N. C., is the guest of Mrs. Wm. P. Emerson on the beach. Miss Elliott visited in Wilmington about a year ago and made many friends in the city.

Mr. Frank Loewy and bride, formerly Miss Goldie Stein, arrived yesterday from Philadelphia and will spend a few weeks as the guests of Mrs. Loewy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Stein, at their cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Einstein, of Wilmington, are spending the Summer at the Oceanic Hotel. Her mother, Mrs. L. A. Ottenger, of Macon, Ga., and sister, Miss Hortense Ottenger, are also spending the Summer there.

After spending several weeks very pleasantly at the Oceanic Hotel, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. DeJarnette and children left yesterday for their home at Montgomery, Ala. They expect to go to New York in a week or so to spend some time.

Guests at The Oceanic Hotel were favored last night by several vocal solos by Mrs. W. C. Jarnigan, of Atlanta, Ga., who is a guest of Mrs. R. H. Northrop. Mrs. Jarnigan has a superb voice and was heard with the greatest pleasure by all.

Mrs. J. E. Tomlinson and daughter, Miss Lucy Tomlinson, who have spent some days very pleasantly at The Oceanic, leave today for their home in Atlanta. Misses Florence and Marguerite Stokes, also of Atlanta, will return home Saturday.

Mr. James W. Pharr and party, of Charlotte, chartered the launch Susanna yesterday morning and spent several hours in the ocean in front of the beach. There were 15 or 16 persons in the party and they caught 50 or 60 fine Spanish mackerel.

Dr. Thos. P. Hinman, of Atlanta, Ga., who is a guest at the Seashore Hotel, and a party of Atlanta friends went out yesterday morning in the sharpie Virgia May, Capt. W. M. Weus, returning to the hotel about 1 P. M. with a large catch of fish.

Mr. W. C. Carrington, of Spartanburg, S. C., and party, went outside fishing yesterday in the sloop yacht Edwin, Capt. Salter. The party had a most pleasant and successful trip, the catch consisting of a large number of pig fish, black bass and trout.

The arrivals at The Oceanic Hotel yesterday included Ben R. Stuart, of Cleveland, O., a nephew of the widely known evangelist by that name; Geo. S. Brock, Charlotte; Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Carroll, Chester, S. C.; H. C. Ross and H. B. Thackston, Atlanta; E. M. Canada, Richmond, Va.

The first children's souvenir dance of the season was given at Lumina last night and was largely attended. The affair proved highly enjoyable to the little folks and was exceedingly interesting to the large number of spectators. The children had the floor from 8 to 9 o'clock and then the grown people had it for the remainder of the evening.

The following composed a most successful fishing party out from the Oceanic Hotel yesterday morning: Messrs. Walter Buckner and R. L. Williams, Wilmington; Mr. J. E. Maddox, Atlanta, Mr. J. A. Fountain and A. S. Williams. The party went out in the launch Suwanee, Capt. Salter. They caught 227 fish. Mr. Fountain caught a shark weighing 60 pounds.

A large party of employes of the Delker Bros. Buggy Company, of Henderson, Ky., have made reservations at the Hanover Inn for a stay of 15 days from July 15th to 30th. There will be about 20 persons in the party. Arrangements for the accommodation of the party were made through Mr. R. D. Topp, of Spartanburg, S. C., general manager of the Delker Co., for this district.

Yesterday's arrivals at The Seashore Hotel included M. M. Morgan, Laurinburg; Mrs. Henry S. Coles, Peyton S. Coles, 2nd; Mrs. Leo Grossman, Miss Hannah Grossman, Atlanta; Miss Seline Colyer and Miss Elizabeth Colyer, Charlotte; Mrs. H. W. Carroll, two children and maid, and Mrs. H. L. McCall, two children and maid, of Bennettsville, S. C.; Capt. S. T. Packer, of the Clyde Line steamer Navahoe; H. E. Garrison, Charlotte.

Manager Jesse N. Couch, of the Oceanic Hotel, who has been in Atlanta for the past few days on business, will return to the beach today. On the same train with him will be some 50 or 60 Atlantans who will come for a stay of some days at the resort. The Oceanic has reservations for 120 persons from Atlanta between now and the first of July. The managers of both the Seashore and the Oceanic hotels expect the Atlanta arrivals to pick up from now until the close of the season.

Mrs. Frank L. Huggins charmingly entertained a number of guests at bridge at her cottage on Wrightsville Beach yesterday morning, complimentary to Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Mitchell, of Norfolk, Va., who are house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Huggins, as well as to Mrs. W. C. Jarnigan, of Atlanta, Ga., the guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Northrop, and Mr. Devereaux H. Lippitt. Mrs. Haigh Daingerfield and Miss May Daingerfield, of Charlotte, who are spending some time at the Seashore Hotel, were among the guests invited to the affair, which proved one of the most thoroughly delightful of the several social functions given at the beach this season.

LARCENY IS CHARGED.

White Men Arrested Here and at Rocky Mount Last Night.

Charged with the larceny of two mileage books and the sum of about $75 in cash, the property of Mr. J. A. Hooper and the American Agricultural Chemical Company, W. R. Dickinson and W. A. Ames, both white, were arrested last night, the former in this city and the latter in Rocky Mount, upon advices from Chief of Police John J. Fowler, here.

The men are alleged to have entered the office of the company, at its factory on the river above the city, Wednesday night, and having secured the mileage books and cash from the safe. The matter was reported to the police yesterday and the officers began working on the case at once. It was learned that Ames had left on the early afternoon train for Norfolk, and that Dickinson was still in the city. Chief Fowler called up the chief of police at Rocky Mount and instructed him to arrest Ames as he passed through that city. He received a telegram last night to the effect that the man had been arrested and was being held for the local officers.

Dickinson was arrested last night at the Southern Hotel, after he had retired. The warrant was served by Officer W. C. Moore. The police say he stated that he was with Ames on the trip but that he did not take any money or either of the mileage books himself. He declared, the police say, that Ames knew the combination of the safe, and that he opened it and got the valuables. Dickinson is being held in default of bond, pending the hearing before the Recorder.

In the telegram from Rocky Mount it was stated that a mileage book had been found on the person of Ames.

An officer will probably be sent to Rocky Mount today to bring Ames back.

TO ERECT NEW BUILDING.

Queen City Cycle Company to Have Fine Home on Market Street.

The Queen City Cycle Company has moved from its old building at 209 Market street, to the Bonitz building at 131 Market, which they will occupy temporarily while a fine structure will be erected for them on the former site. The building will be of brick, 20x66 feet in size, and will be modern in every detail. It will be two stories in height.

Mr. Jas. F. Gause, Jr., a well known young architect, has prepared the plans for the new building, and work upon the structure will be started at once. It is hoped to have it ready for occupancy in three months.

..Theatrical..

Perhaps what is one of the greatest galaxies of films ever offered in a moving picture theatre anywhere will be presented today by the New Bijou, that delightful spot constantly swept by cool breezes and laden with fresh, invigorating air. There will be some of the best dramatic films and some of the finest comedies, while another one of those big educational photoplays, for which the Bijou has become noted, will also be in the menu. The one for today is of really extraordinary interest, and will not only prove a feast for the vision, but will furnish splendid information. It is called "Egypt" and true to its title it unfolds an interesting tale of this wonderful land. Not only are scenes and life in Egypt presented in vivid manner, but the industrial ways of the country are shown.

A film called "The Fountains of Rome" is also a delightful one on today's programme, and this gives one an interesting view of the wonderful fountains in Rome.

The chief clown picture on today is a corker and it will make folks scream with laughter. It is "The Lottery of Love," and it is a story of most ludicrous complications and one possessing a rich plot. The company appearing in the comedy is a splendid one. Today's Bijou bill should certainly not be missed.

At The Grand Theatre

The Grand Theatre will offer today one of the best bills it has offered in some time and one that will prove very pleasing to all in attendance. Besides the high-class moving pictures, there will be splendid music by the orchestra and a delightfully cool and pleasant auditorium.

"The Girl at the Key." by R. Guthrie Kelly, an Edison, will be the feature film and it is a story of the Wireless. The film has in it a bit of romance, a bit of finance and just a little love intermingled to make the mixture palatable for amusement-seekers. It will be found a clever, up-to-date story that is well played and produced by the Edison Company while in Bermuda. Another feature at the Grand today will be a Biograph entitled, "When Kings Were the Law." In this film is depicted the awful result of the indisputable word of the reigning monarch. The film is pictured in Romanda where a king ruled who was devotedly attached to a friend by whom he was influenced. He presented her with a necklace of fabulous price and enjoins that she never part with it. What follows is graphically told in the film and it is sure to please a large number of people who flock daily to this delightful amusement resort.

In addition to these two films there will be still a third and the three will be as good as have been witnessed in any playhouse in a long time. Everybody is given a cordial welcome at the Grand and all streets lead to its door.

—A. G. Ricaud, Esq., a prominent member of the local bar, has been ill at his cottage on The Hammocks for the past few days, many friends will regret to learn. He was reported as being much improved yesterday.

—The Atlantic Coast Line will operate an excursion to Fayetteville today and it is expected that a large number will avail themselves of the opportunity to visit that delightful town at small cost. The train will leave at 7:15 A. M., and will leave Fayetteville on the return at 9 P. M.

The good may die young, but the villian is seldom caught until the last act.

COTTON MARKET FEATURELESS

Prices Fluctuated Within a Range of Five or Six Points—The Close Was Steady, Net Five Points Higher.

New York, June 27.—There was little trading in the cotton market today, and prices fluctuated within a range of 5 or 6 points, with the close steady, net 5 points higher, to 2 points lower, and generally unchanged to 3 points higher on active months.

The market opened steady at an advance of 1 to 3 points, which was about in line with somewhat steadier cables than expected, but there was no important buying and the market eased off to a point or two under the closing figures of last night during the first few minutes under scattering liquidation and a little local pressure. A favorable interpretation of the weather news and bearish crop accounts from the Carolinas seemed to encourage the early selling, but offerings did not become general and the market later steadied on buying of July by trade interests, and rebuying of later months by the scattering sellers of old crop positions. General business was very quiet after the first hour and fluctuations seemed to be very largely in sympathy with the steadier tone of July, which resulted from the buying of spot people at from 25 to 30 points under October. The firmness of July at New Orleans may have tended to restrict offerings during the day, and it is claimed that some white cotton is being bought from the New York stock for shipment to New Orleans for delivery on July contracts there.

Receipts at the ports today 2,765 bales against 1,184 last week and 1,1.. last year. Today's receipts at Galveston 283 bales against 131 last year; at New Orleans 1,707 bales against 1,106 last year, and at Houston 684 bales against 133 last year.

Futures closed steady.

STOCKS MOSTLY IRREGULAR

Aside From Political Situations Happening Are Viewed With Complacency—Some Brief Periods of Activity.

New York, June 27.—Aside from the political situation today's happenings were viewed with complacency by that element in the stock market committed to the conservative side. The comprehensive advance in steel products by a number of independent manufacturers and additional favorable crop advices were accepted as factors of importance. Fears of a money flurry here in connection with July first payments proved to be unfounded and the return monetary situation assumed a brighter aspect.

Irregularity dominated the stock market throughout. There were brief periods of activity and strength, but these were followed by increased dullness and heaviness. In the final hour the market fell back all around, and not only were most advances wiped out, but these were replaced by net losses and a listless close.

The bond market was steady and narrow. Total sales, par value, aggregated $1,995,000. United States government bonds were unchanged on call. Total sales 347,900 shares.

Something Interesting.

A Remanufactured typewriter is not a second-hand typewriter. To remanufacture a typewriter means that it is made new throughout. All worn parts are replaced by new parts, and the machine is made new. A second-hand typewriter is one that has been used and has not had the old worn parts replaced by new ones. Remanufactured typewriters are practically new machines, and our faith in them enables us to give you the same guarantee the manufacturer gives. This should convince you that they are as good as those you pay from $100 to $125 for, and we save you from 25 per cent to 50 per cent.

UNDERWOODS $40.00 AND UP.

Place the difference to your credit in the bank. We also sell the Remington, Monarch, Smith Premier and others at equally attractive prices. Come and see our stock. IT WILL PAY YOU.

Beldam of Banners and Noise

The hall became a beldam of banners and noise. The Missouri delegation was the first to tear its standard from the iron clamps. New Jersey followed and soon the two rival crowds were parading through the aisles a struggling, sweating mass of excited men.

It was 1:56 when the demonstration for Wilson, which soon became a jumble of conflicting demonstrants, started. The New York Wilson banner was carried on the floor by a spectator and pushed into the New York delegation. The New York delegation, who had thus far taken no part in the demonstration, bore down on the standard bearer and tore the banner down. It was recovered and carried to the New Jersey delegates who shielded it. Every delegate on the floor except the stolid block in the New York section was standing on his chair watching the swirling crowd in the aisles. As the big Champ Clark banner passed the New Jersey delegation the bearers yelled: "Clark has always been a Democrat."

The Jerseyites objected, but serious trouble was averted as the Clark banner moved on.

Demonstration Continues

Despite the orders of the police and fire department, several flashlights were set off in the crowded and disorderly auditorium during the demonstration.

Police attempted to clear the aisles.

A woman with two Clark lithographs on a standard was escorted along in a parade of the speakers adherents.

A Wilson delegate produced a long fishing rod with a portrait of the New Jersey Governor at the hook end and waved it far above the heads of the delegates.

All manner of contrivances were brought into play, indicating that the opposing forces had carefully prepared for the demonstrations of the day.

The galleries were crowded with partisans of the candidates and kept up their noisy shouting long ater the delegates had taken their seats.

Clark and Wilson managers each charged the other with having "packed the galleries." It was clearly evident that the galleries held thousands beyond their ticketed capacity.

The Voting Begins

When Bell had concluded the call of the roll was begun on a question of substituting the minority, or Wilson report, for the majority or Clark report.

Alabama started off with 14 votes aye and 10 noes and the test vote was on. Arizona gave six noes, Arkansas 18 and California 26.

Colorado gave one aye and 11 noes. Connecticut gave one aye and 12 noes. Deleware's six votes were aye. Florida divided 2 ayes and 10 noes. Georgia went solidly 28 votes no. Idaho gave 8 ayes. Illinois brought a cheer when the delegation gave all its strength to the Wilson cause with 58 ayes.

Indiana divided 11 ayes and 19 noes. Iowa also split, 11 1-2 delegates voting aye and 14 1-2 no. Kansas, claimed by the Clark people, voted solidly for the Wilson report.

Kentucky gave its 26 solidly to the Clark report. Louisiana split it 13 ayes to 7 noes; Maine 11 ayes and 1 no; Maryland half a vote aye and 15 1-2 no. Massachusetts and Michigan were passed on the first call. Minnesota gave her 24 votes aye. Mississippi went to Clark solidly, 20 votes no. Missouri, Champ Clark's State, which had been divided heretofore, voted solidly 36 "no."

Montana gave 8 ayes and then came Nebraska, Bryan's State. It gave the Wilson report 14 votes and the Clark report 2. Nevada was passed. New Hampshire split it 6 to 2 in favor of Wilson. New Jersey split it 24 for Wilson and four against. New Mexico gave 7 noes.

New York Goes for Wilson

New York! called the clerk and the convention noise died away. "Ninety votes aye," called out Leader Murphy, of Tammany Hall.

It was the first time the New York delegation had voted with the Progressives and there was a great cheer from the Wilson people. They had been claiming since yesterday that sentiment for the New Jersey Governor was growing in the New York delegation.

North Carolina split it, 20 ayes and 4 noes.

North Dakota gave 10 ayes and then came Ohio, over which the fight on the unit rule was waged last night.

Ohio's Vote Split

The Harmon people had attempted to force the 18 Wilson delegates to vote for the Ohio Governor.

They broke away today and the vote in the delegation was 28 for the Clark report; 18 for Wilson; 2 absent.

Oklahoma split it 10 to 10.

Oregon gave 10 ayes; Pennsylvania 71 ayes and 5 noes; Rhode Island 10 noes, South Carolina 18 ayes, Tennessee, 10 ayes and 14 noes.

Texas voted solidly for Wilson as usual; Utah and Vermont went the same way.

Ryan for Wilson

Virginia, with Thomas F. Ryan in the delegation, voted solidly for the Wilson report.

Washington gave 14 nays, West Virginia split it 3 1-2 ayes and 10 noes, 2 1-2 not voting. Wisconsin divided 19 and 16 for Wilson. Wyoming went 3 to 3.

Alaska split it 2 ayes, 4 noes; the District of Columbia gave all its six to Wilson; Hawaii and the Philippines doing likewise. Porto Rco divided 4 ayes and two noes. The vote resulted, Yes (for Wilson) 639 1-2. Noes (for Clark) 437. Not voting, 15 1-2, including South Dakota. Absent 2.

The South Dakota delegation was not called, being involved in the contest.

Rest of Report Accepted

None of the other contests before the committee were taken to the floor of the convention and the report of the Credentials Committee as to all other cases was accepted. The Harrison-Hearst delegates from Illinois abandoned their fight. Two clark factions from the District of Columbia were seated with a half vote each.

Senator John Sharp Williams, of Mississippi, made a point of order against counting the vote of the Philippines, the Supreme Court of the United States having held the Philippines not to be a part of the United States.

Chairman Parker held that the Philippine delegates were excluded. These delegates were pledged to Wilson, but the Wilson people said thy had no other alternative than to help unseat them.

Excluding the Philippines the vote on the Wilson-Clark contest was: Ayes, 633 1-2, noes 437.

James Made Permanent Chairman

The report of the Committee on Permanent Organization was then presented. It nominated Ollie James, of Kentucky, as permanent chairman. E. E. Britton, of North Carolina, as secretary and Urey Woodson as associate secretary. The othes officers were filled by the selection of the temporary officers.

Senator Bankhead, of Alabama, Representative Hughes, of New Jersey; Senator Pomorene, of Ohio, and Mayor Fitzgerald, of Boston, were appointed a committee to notify James of his election, after the report of the committee had been adopted by a viva voce vote.

They escorted the big Kentuckian up the center aisle while delegates and galleries cheered and the band played, "My Old Kentucky Home." When Mr. James reached the platform. Judge Parker thanked the convention for its conduct while he presided and introduced "one of the greatest leaders of American Democracy, Ollie James."

Mr. James, looming high over the other men on the platform, began his speech.

Mr. James' speech, bristling with comments on President Taft, was listened to by Mrs. Taft with close interest and an occasional smile.

When Mr. James said: "I believe Roosevelt was right when he said he made a mistake in recommending President Taft," Mrs. Taft did not smile.

"But," added Mr. James, "I think the people would make a big mistake if they took the man who recommended him." Then a broad smile spread over Mrs. Taft's face.

Mr. James' first reference to Mr. Bryan brought a great wave of cheering from the floor and galleries. There was no effort at a demonstration, however. The delegates rose and cheered the permanent chairman as he concluded:

"He's a bear, boys, he's a bear," yelled one of them amid laughter and renewed applause.

Senator LaFollette Present

Senator LaFollette, the Republican Progressive, arrived in the convention hall as Mr. James sat down, and was escorted to the platform. He had hardly reached there when a motion to recess until 8 P. M., was put and carried. The delegates were tired and wished to postpone the nominating speeches until tonight.

Senator LaFollette, as the convention adjourned, declared that he had merely come to the convention to look on.

"My interest here is merely that of a spectator," he said, "I had hoped that the nominating speeches would be made this afternoon and I wished to hear them."

James' Keynote Speech

Senator-elect Ollie James, of Kentucky, permanent chairman of the Democratic National Convention, in his keynote speech today, spoke in part, as follows:

"The Republican party, flushed with many victories, imperious as a tyrant, unheeding the demands of the people, took the reins of the government in 1908 under the solemn promise that they would revise the tariff in the interest of the consumer. Instead of keeping this promise as they should have done because it was their bond of honor, they betrayed it. They raised the tariff higher than ever before until it reached its maximum of protection, being 47 per cent.

"The story of this base betrayal is known to all men. The Democratic party appealed on their record in the 61st Congress upon the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill to the American people and we received from them a verdict of guilty against the Republican party and the best val of power upon ourselves. How faithfully we have kept our promises to them is but a resume of our official action."

Reviews Tariff Revision

Mr. James reviewed at great length the tariff revision legislation passed by the Democratic House and referred to the bills vetoed by President Taft.

Referring to the veto of the wool bill, he said:

"And today the Wool trust stands not behind a majority of the lawmakers of the Republic, but behind the veto of the President and the 11 more than one-third of the representatives of the American people picking the pockets of the shivering poor and ragged people of America.

"The Republican party became so arrogant and confident that this character of robbery would continue to meet the favor of the American people that they boldly wrote into their platform of 1908 a declaration that the tariff should not only equal the difference in the cost of production at home and abroad, but should be high enough in addition to this to give a profit to the manufacturer here.

"President Taft has the lone and singular distinction of being the only President in the life of this Republic who ever vetoed bills cheapening clothing to the people, lumber to the homeless and meat and bread to hungry Americans and free farming implements to the toiling farmer."

Refers to Tariff Board

Mr. James refrerred at some length to the Tariff Board and said:

"When does a demand for a report of a tariff board some to our ears? It's when the tariff has already been fixed so high that they know they can get it no higher and if the people's representatives were allowed to speak they would reduce it. Then we are told the Tariff Board must report. This great right of taxation must be taken out of the hands of the people and lodged in the hands of a board of five men and their report must be awaited by the suffering people of the United States."

Other legislation passed by the Democratic House, he pointed out, was the income tax, publicity of campaign funds and direct election of Senators. He declared for vigorous anti-trust laws and said in part:

"We are not opposed to big business. We recognize that in a big country there must be big business, but we say with all the emphasis of our souls that big business like little business must obey the law. We would strike from these trusts every character of protection. We would write a tariff law strictly for revenue only and place the tariff first upon the luxuries and if that did not produce sufficient revenue, then upon the comforts of life, and lastly we would lay the burden of taxation upon the necessities of life. These infant industries must be weaned. Infants they began but are mighty giants today who have coalesced their strength—to dirve skyward the cost of living and oppress the people."

Attacks Taft's Administration

The latter part of the chairman's speech was devoted to severe strictures on President Taft's administration. On that subject he said in part:

"President Taft did not take time to carry out, but he kicked out the Roosevelt policies. The atonement that Roosevelt offers the American voters that he succeeded in deceiving by the election of President Taft is presenting to them the one who made the mistake, who is himself. The American people fear he will be as much mistaken in himself as he was in President Taft. The atonement is not sufficient. If he wants to come with clean hands and clear conscience let him join with us and do what ought to have been done four years ago—elect a Democratic President.

"President Taft is joined to his idols. His administration presents the most melancholy spectacle in all our National life. Repudiated in the middle of his term by the election of a Democratic Congress his renomination forced by a wholesale unseating of honest delegates, he is left-handed in both hands, does everything wrong, and most generally on Friday. Roosevelt undertakes to achieve the Presidency by proclaiming himself the advocate of those policies which he won the Presidency by denouncing.

"The progressive spirit that sweeps this country now is called by some the principles of the progressives and by others the doctrines of the insurgents; but back yonder when a voice in the Western wilderness cried out for them, they were called the vagaries of Bryan, the dreamer. However much we may differ in National conventions upon minor questions all just men must admit that the one living American whose name will shine in history studded by a thousand flaming stars along side that of Jefferson and Jackson is that of William Jennings Bryan, of Nebraska.

Killed Cannonism

"The Democratic Congress not only scotched Cannonism but it killed it. Our Republican opponents said we were unfriendly to the soldiers of the Union army, that in our camps the fires of the Civil War still burned, that if given control we would be neither just nor generous to these veteran heroes of the Civil War. But behold the record of the Democratic Congress still in session!

"It remained for us to give the most liberal pensions to these deserving men in their declining years that their old age might be made serene and bright. They charged we would be unjust to them, now they say we were too generous. Nearly a half century after the war had closed it remains for a Democratic Federal general to father the bill that did even-handed justice to the Federal soldiers. The war is over and that flag, the brightest, dearest colors ever knit together in a banner of the free, waves about a united people, where it is loved by every heart and would be defended by every hand. And coming from the South as I do, I can say that if Abraham Lincoln were alive this night there is not a foot of soil under Dixie's sky under which he might not pitch his tent and pillow his head upon a Confederate soldier's knee and sleep, and sleep in safety there."

GEN. ESTONEZ KILLED

Leader of Cuban Insurrection Officially Reported Dead

Havana, Cuba, June 27.—General Estonez, the leader of the insurrection, is officially reported tonight to have been killed. President Gomez at 10 tonight received a dispatch from General Montaguedo, the Cuban commander-in-chief in Oriente, announcing that Colonel Consegrua has reported the rebel leader dead and his body at Songa.

There are no particulars of the engagement in which General Estonez was killed, but the fall of the rebel chief is the occasion of great rejoicing here.

this will end the insurrection. It is this will nd the insurrection. It is also reported that Ivonet has been wounded and will probably soon be captured.

OUTLINES

The Bryan-Wilson faction won another signal victory in the Democratic convention yesterday when they overturned the Credentials Committee's action in the South Dakota contest and succeeded in forcing the seating of the Wilson delegation.

Final arrangements for the Johnson-Flynn fight on July 4th have been completed.

W. J. Bryan led the Democratic convention into a declaration of progressiveness last night unparalleled in political history, when he had a resolution passed to unseat all delegates identified with the privileged interests, the vote on the resolution being 889 to 196.

The State bankers in session at Morehead City, N. C., last night enjoyed their annual german, devoting the morning session to business and the afternoon to pleasures of the resort.

At a late hour last night the Democratic convention began nearing nomination speeches and it was agreed that after they were completed adjournment would be taken and balloting on the candidates would begin at noon today.

Oscar Underwood was placed in nomination at the Democratic convention last night by William Bankhead, of Alabama. Senator James D. Read spoke in nomination of Champ Clark.

After a heated session lasting over an hour the New York delegation to the Baltimore convention last night voted to cast their 90 votes for Governor Harmon.

Gen. Estenoz, leader of the Cuban insurrection, was reported last night to have been killed.

N. Y. FOR HARMON

Delegation In Caucus Votes Unanimously to Support Him

Baltimore, June 27.—A caucus of the New York delegation which decided practically unanimously to vote for Governor Harmon was held before the night's session of the convention.

The delegates fought bitterly over the Presidential question.

Three times while the caucus was in progress and the Bryan fight was engaging attention on the floor National Committeeman Mack hurried, hot and excited to the room where the New York members were met to urge them to hurry to the floor. But the discussion in the caucus was too bitter and they continued to consider their own troubles. Not until 8:40 when the roll call on the Bryan proposition was ordered did the New Yorkers emerge, sweating and fuming from the conference.

"Unanimous for Harmon," was the chorus they chanted as they hurried to their seats on the floor.

Representative William Sulzer, who urged the consideration of Champ Clark, came out looking rather discouraged.

"Its practically fixed for Harmon in there," he exclaimed. "Champ Clark will be second choice, and Wilson third."

Half a dozen fiery speeches were made in the caucus.

WICKERSHAM TO WAIT

Agrees to Month's Delay For Harvester Trust's Answer

Washington, D. C., June 27.—Attorney General Wickersham has agreed to a delay of one month in the filing of the International Harvester Company's answer to the government's anti-trust suit. The reply will be filed August 5th.

The agreement was reached at a conference today between the Attorney General, and the assistant to the Attorney General, Thomas E. Bancroft and J. P. Wilson, the two latter counsel for the company.
